

Mesa County coronavirus cases surge

The Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment implemented a dial system to determine a county's "openness" as it relates to public health restrictions from COVID-19. In a matter of weeks, Mesa County has gone from "Protect our Neighbors" in green to the most restrictive level, orange, of Safer at Home. The tightest restrictions, a stay-at-home order, are reflected in red.

Source: Mesa County Public Health

ROBERT McLEAN/The Daily Sentinel