Your name and title: Kristi Rippe, Owner

Years in business: 2 years in Hastings

Business history: Several years ago, I had wanted to start a home interiors retail store. The timing wasn't right for our family. I have always had a passion for design and renovations. After years of personal redevelopment and remodel projects, I started helping others with their projects. After we moved back to Hastings in 2019, Queen City Interiors opened for business in Downtown Hastings as a interior design studio. In the summer of 2021, we expanded to offer a larger selection of furniture and décor. Matti Kershner now manages our retail operations both in store and online.

Show & tell: Our wide variety of products intentionally curated from local Nebraska and small businesses around the country can be found online at www.queencityne.com.

The real experience: We take an individualized approach. We want our clients to have a space that reflects their style. We are happy to source products and provide functional and beautiful design catered to the client's needs.

Shop local, it matters: We are passionate about shopping local and supporting small business owners. Every business has a story of why they chose Hastings and why they stay here. These businesses are what makes Hastings special. Getting to know the owners, their story, their family is important to feeling connected in our community.
