Heat Of August

MORGANTOWN — While West Virginia University Head Football Coach Bobby Bowden isn't optimistic about the upcoming season, he isn't quite ready to throw in the towel either.

"Enthusiastic is the way I'd describe the feeling at this state of the game," said the diminuitive second year coach, who led the Mountaineers to an 8-3 record last season. "Anything good or bright I could say about the season could be erased with one word — inexperience. We have some young runners and receivers who have more talent than the ones we've had in the past, but many of them have never played in a varsity game."

It's easy to see what Bowden means. Take a look at the Mountaineers' backfield, for example. Solid Pete Wood returns at fullback and Chris Potts, the team's leading receiver, is back at flanker.

But at the all-important tailback position WVU will depend on a pair of heralded sophomores who have never played in a varsity game. Kerry Marbury of Monongah and Jeff Rice of St. Clairsville, Ohio, will vie for the slot. Both go 4.5 in the 40-yard dash, and both were high school All-Americans. But, both must be considered question marks, at least until Sept. 11, when Boston College visits Mountaineer Field.

Galiffa Has Confidence Of Teammates

Senior quarterback Bernie Galiffa possesses all of the poise and self-assurance of a Joe Namath, and the 190-pound Pennsylvanian who broke many of Broadway Joe's high school passing records has the confidence of Bowden and his teammates. But, the nephew of former Army All-American Arnold Galiffa saw only limited action during the 1970 season and must also be considered at least somewhat of a question mark until Sept. 11.

Bowden expresses his most optimistic attitude about the Mountaineers' offense, and with B. C. Williams leading the charge at guard the coach's smiles may be real.

"He didn't have a bad practice in spring drills," said Bowden, "and he came back this fall ready to play." Williams, down to 235 from 255 in the spring, is probably the Mountaineers' quickest lineman, and certainly their best blocker. The 5-10 senior goes 4.9 in the 40-yard dash, a carryover from high school days at Clifton Forge, Va., when he was a fullback.

Defensive Interior Biggest Worry

The defensive interior gives Bowden and Coach Hayden Buckley, the defensive chief, their biggest worries at this stage of the game.

End Bob Sims, a 220-pound junior from Struthers, Ohio, is the only returning regular among the front seven. Cliff Harris, Frank Samsa, Terry King, Dan Hannahs and Fred McMillan make up the rest of the returning lettermen in the interior line.

Bowden and Buckley will be looking to the sophs again for help. Wib Newton, a 220-pounder from New Martinsville, has a good shot at a linebacker position. Walt Bragg, a 220-pound former all-stater from Morristown, Tenn., and Dan Evans, a 215-pounder from New Philadelphia, Ohio, are battling with Samsa at a tackle spot.

Ron Brown, a 221-pound junior from Man, and Dennis Reid, a 220-pound junior from New Martinsville are in the running for a starting tackle berth.

Trio Seeking Hale's Defensive End Post

Juniors Tom Tamburino of Youngstown, Ohio, and Russ Schweiker of Parkersburg and senior Scott Hindsley of Beckley are vying for the defensive end position vacated by former Huntington High standout John Hale.

Boston College will put a relatively inexperienced offensive unit on the AstroTurf against the Mountaineers on Sept. 11, but the following weekend at Berkeley, the University of California should put the Mountaineers' young defensive unit to a real test with a running attack built around 9.3 sprinter Isaac Curtis and 9.8 J. D. Smith.

The Mountaineers will have to grow up in a hurry in the heat of August practice sessions and September games if they want to avert what could be a long season.

Young Herd Reports; Press Day Is Today

By MIKE BROWN
Herald-Dispatch Associate Sports Editor

Wednesday was an extremely busy day at Gullickson Hall.

Marshall University head coach Jack Lengyel and his staff were kept busy checking in players who were reporting for pre-season football practice.

The Young Thundering Herd will pause briefly today for "Press Day" before it begins working in earnest for the Sept. 18 opener with Morehead State University.

Lengyel is expecting upwards of 90 players, including walk-ons to report for practice.

Among the missing will be quarterback Kirk Barton who was transferring to Marshall from Buffalo which had dropped football. Barton, however, informed Lengyel earlier this week he had elected to stay at Buffalo.

Lengyel took Barton's decision in stride, commenting, "If you don't have them, you don't miss them."

Approximately half of the players who don uniforms today will be freshmen.

"Actually," noted Lengyel, "90 per cent of these players will be new to varsity competition and in effect will be freshmen."

After today, the Herd will get down to the serious business of two-a-day sessions. The first three days of practice, however, will be limited to shorts due to NCAA regulations.

Full scale practice starts on Tuesday, Aug. 24. Because of a new scholastic calendar, school will start on Aug. 26, thus limiting the traditional two-a-day contact drills to only two days.

* * *

Sports Information Director Jack Yager should be busy today, too. Yager, who has been on the job one month, has reservations for an estimated 25-30 newsmen, by far one of the largest delegations to ever be on hand for a Marshall football press day.

With the exception of Steve Clark of the Atlanta, Ga., Constitution, newsmen expected to attend today's gathering represent the various members of the news media in the general Tri-State area.

* * *

Ticket manager Jim Hodges reports season ticket sales now total approximately 2,200. This is by far the most season tickets ever sold at Marshall.

The Herd's home opener is scheduled for Sept. 25 when Xavier will be met in a 1:30 p.m. contest. Other home games, all starting at 1:30 p.m., have Marshall meeting Dayton on Oct. 16, Bowling Green on Oct. 30, Toledo on Nov. 13 and Ohio on Nov. 20.

Season tickets, priced at $20, are still available at the Gullickson Hall ticket office. Youth tickets are priced at $10.

Thornburg's Buffs Smaller, Weaker

By GAYLEN DUSKEY
Herald-Dispatch Sports Writer

"Small, weak and slow," was how Buffalo of Wayne coach Jim Thornburg jokingly referred to his Bison football squad.

Thornburg was at least part correct in his summation though—the Bisons are smaller, weaker and slower than last year's team that rolled to a 7-3 record and a share of the Western Athletic Conference football crown.

The Bisons return only three regulars to a team that is filled with question marks. Only Grant Shy, Richard Hutchinson and David Brooks saw action on a regular basis last season.

Shy was the leading receiver in the conference last season and termed by his coach as "pretty tough." Shy, one of three regulars returning in the backfield, will man the wingback position.

The two running back slots will also be filled by returnees if Brooks can hold the starting position at tailback from the challenge of senior Rich Davis. Hutchinson is firmly entrenched at fullback.

The quarterbacking chores will probably fall to Bob Chapman. "He'll make a good high school quarterback as soon as he gets a little experience under his belt," stated the Bison mentor. David Streets is ticketed for the backup spot.

Inexperienced Line

The line, while inexperienced, has been termed "pretty good" by Thornburg. "We're not real big, but we're not a bunch of midgets either," he said. "A lot depends on how well our line plays."

Thornburg has only two players that tip the scales at 200 pounds, Gary Hawkins, a sophomore center, and Rick Clay a senior guard.

While Randy Lincoln will probably knock Hawkins out of the starting lineup at center, Clay will start at one of the guard spots. The other guard spot is up for grabs between Don Beckley, 5-7, 135, and Tom Gibson, 5-8, 165.

The tackles will probably be Duane Spangler, 5-9, 165, and Ron Arnoldt, 5-10, 172. Rod Vickers, 145, and Warren Spry, 150, will be the backup men.

Ends Wide Open

The end positions are a wide open battle between Doug Bryant, 5-8, 140, Tom Plymale, 5-7, 140, Dan Spenkner, 5-8, 135, Jeff Fisher, 5-9, 150, and Doug Blankenship, 5-9, 140.

"I tell you I don't know what we're going to do, we don't have many returning," lamented Thornburg. "These boys could come through and make you look good or they may fall flat on their faces."

The Bisons could be rated as the conference darkhorse, but as Thornburg said, "We've been the darkhorse for the last four years. Wayne, Milton and Ceredo-Kenova all should have better material than we do with only three starters back. We're small, but we're going to be trying."

Nicklaus Picked To Win In Philadelphia Classic

By BOB GREEN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, as usual, held his customary position as the man to beat Wednesday on the eve of the start in the $150,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

The powerful Nicklaus, probably the most feared competitor in the game today, is enjoying one of his better seasons despite a light playing schedule and is the only one of the top five money winners competing.

He's always ranked among the favorites and the absence of Lee Trevino, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Miller Barber—the others on the top five money list—and a slump by Billy Casper, only enhance that position.

Trevino, No. 1 on the money list at $197,219, is recovering from an emergency appendectomy in New Mexico. Player is at home in South Africa. Barber is competing in Europe, and Palmer is taking some time off.

Casper, the defending champion and winner of 44 tour titles including two U.S. Opens and a Masters championship, is bogged in a rare slump.

The 40-year-old veteran, the PGA Player of the Year last season, has yet to win this year. It's the first time he's gone without a victory since 1956.

"I'm just making a lot of mistakes," Casper said, "and I've been making them for a long time. It's both mechanical and mental. And it adds up to the same thing—I'm losing strokes when I shouldn't be losing them."

He ranks 15th on the money winning list this season with $75,539, most of it on the strength of three second-place finishes.

Nicklaus is having an exceptional season. He's won four times, has been fourth or better nine times and is second to Trevino on the money list at $194,313.

He's averaging $13,201 a start and is almost certain to go past the idle Trevino. A victory, or even a second place finish, would enable him to break his own single-season money winning record of $211,556.

Arrayed against him are such veterans as Masters Champion Charles Coody, Frank Beard, George Archer and Bruce Crampton and a flock of new stars who have come into their own this season—Hubert Green, Jerry Beard, Johnny Miller and Dave Eichelberger.

The 72 hole chase for the $30,000 first prize begins Thursday on the 6,807 yard, par 72 Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course.

Grid Ticket Sales Begin At Milton

Milton High School season football ticket sales are now underway for the five home games slated for the Greyhounds.

Tickets may be purchased at Marryland, Adams Printing Supplies and The Drug Store in Milton, and Black's Barber Shop in Culloden. Advanced tickets are $1.25, and $1.50 at field gate, while reserve tickets may be purchased only at the high school athletic office for $10.

Hallum Expecting 85 At MSU Fall Practice

MOREHEAD, Ky. — Morehead State University Head Football Coach Jake Hallum expects 85 to 90 candidates to report this week for the Eagles' fall drills.

The squad will return to campus Wednesday. Thursday will be press and picture day, and practice without pads will start Friday. The Eagles will work Friday, Saturday and Monday without pads.

"The coaches and I have been looking forward to fall practice. We hope the team reports in good physical condition and ready to begin practice," Hallum said.

"Cautiously optimistic" describes Hallum's outlook on the coming season, his fourth as MSU head coach. Thirty-six lettermen are returning, but six regulars out of 10 departed Eagles must be replaced.

"This is the most experienced group we've had but it's not going to be easy to replace key men in the defensive backfield and offensive line," Hallum said.

The offense, tops in the Ohio Valley Conference last year with 289 yards a game, will be without three All-OVC performers — tackle Ed Mignery, tailback Louis Rogan and center Steve Ward.

Also missing from the offense are starting guard Buddy Harrison, tackle Dwain Hollingsworth and kicking specialist John Clark. Sophomore guard Tommy Bryant, an outstanding prospect, has given up football, leaving another slot to fill.

MSU is returning the nucleus of its passing attack, spearheaded by sophomore quarterback Dave Schaetzke. Returning receivers are tight end Gary Shirk, split end John High, and wingbacks Mo Hollingsworth, Dennis Crowley and Jeff Perkins. Available for the running back slots are veterans Doug Moore, Bill Cason and John Coning.

Starters are senior guard Tom Lehman and two-year letterman John Slaughter at tackle. Mike Hawkins, Arnold Drury and Chuck Steiner will probably replace Ward, Mignery and Harrison on the line.

Carbo's Homer Enough

CINCINNATI — Young Don Gullett scattered seven hits and hurled the Cincinnati Reds to a 5-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night before 32,000 at Riverfront Stadium.

Gullett bested veteran Bob Gibson, who pitched a no-hitter against Pittsburgh in his last outing, giving Cincinnati a three-game sweep over the Cardinals.

The win was the 14th in 18 decisions for the Lynn, Ky., native, and it was his 10th straight at Riverfront Stadium. Gibson dropped to 11-11 for the year.

Bernie Carbo's home run over the right field fence in the third inning was all Gullett needed to best the Cardinal veteran.

Four In Fifth

The Reds struck for four runs on three hits in the fifth inning, putting it away for the young Kentuckian. Pete Rose, who extended his hitting streak to nine games, got things started when he was hit by a pitch.

After Carbo fanned, Lee May walked and Tony Perez singled to center, scoring Rose. Johnny Bench then singled deep in the hole at third, and when Joe Torre's throw was wild, May came across with the third Cincy run.

The Cards threatened in the sixth and seventh, but Gullett got Torre to fly out to end one uprising, and a double play the other.

Jim McGlothlin (6-9) will oppose Bob Johnson tonight as the Reds take on the Pittsburgh Pirates in the first of a four-game series at Riverfront.

May's Ninth Inning Single Lifts Pirates Over Houston

From Associated Press Dispatches

Pittsburgh's Milt May blasted his fifth homer of the year and delivered the winning run with a bases-loaded single in the ninth inning to lift the Pirates to a 3-2 win over the Houston Astros Wednesday night at Three Rivers Stadium.

Willie Stargell opened the Pirates' rally in the ninth with a double. Ty Clines went into the game to run for Stargell and then scored as May ripped a single through drawn-in infield.

The Astros tied the score at 2-2 in the eighth on a run-scoring single by Bob Watson. Both Pittsburgh homers came off Don Wilson, who went six innings, gave up seven hits and struck out eight.

CHICAGO AT ATLANTA — Chicago exploded for five runs in the eighth inning with the help of Johnny Callison's grand slam home run as the Cubs crushed the Atlanta Braves, 7-2.

The bases-loaded homer was the fourth of Callison's career and the first of the year by a Cub. Milt Pappas made his first appearance against his former mates since being sold to the Cubs last year.

PHILADELPHIA AT SAN FRANCISCO — Dick Dietz and Russ Gibson blasted home runs and John Cumberland gave up only five hits as the San Francisco Giants defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-0 in Candlestick Park.

The Giants recorded their fifth straight win and Cumberland tossed his first shutout of the season to increase his record to 7-2.

OAKLAND AT WASHINGTON — Washington erupted with seven runs in the eighth inning to break up a tie game with Oakland, and Pete Broberg scattered five hits as the Senators made it two in a row over the A's with a 10-3 victory.

Dave Nelson opened the Senators' eighth with a double over Larry Brown's head and into left field. Don Mincher was intentionally walked and Frank Howard doubled down the third base line, sending home Nelson with the go-ahead run for Washington.

KANSAS CITY AT NEW YORK — New York's Ron Blomberg collected a two-run double, and Mel Stottlemyre pitched a four-hitter to give the Yankees a 3-1 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Stottlemyre, 12-11, struck out six and walked only one batter as he outdueled Kansas City ace Dick Drago, 16-7.

BALTIMORE AT MILWAUKEE — Ellie Hendricks and Dave Johnson each drove in a pair of runs to highlight a six-run uprising in the sixth inning that sent the Baltimore Orioles to a 6-4 win over the Milwaukee Brewers.

Hendricks singles with the bases loaded to drive home two runs and overcome a 2-0 lead. The Orioles loaded the bases again off rookie Jim Slaton and got two more runs on a line drive double off the wall by Johnson.

DETROIT AT CHICAGO — Chicago's Bill Melton led a three-run sixth inning attack with a two-run homer that carried the White Sox and Wilbur Wood to a 4-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Wood, 16-9, pitched a six-hitter to give Chicago its fifth straight win and a sweep of the three-game series with the Tigers.

CALIFORNIA AT BOSTON — Boston exploded for three runs in the seventh inning off California's Clude Wright to post a 4-3 victory over the Angels.

Wright held Boston hitless through six innings before Phil Gagliano blasted a bases-loaded double and Luis Aparicio collected a pinch-hit single to give the Red Sox the win.
