Why join the Hallman/Lindsay Family:

You will be part of something local! H/L is a Wisconsin paint manufacturer serving and working hand in hand with consumers, architects, contractors and a wide variety of industries since 1956. Hallman/Lindsay is dedicated to supporting the communities where we work and live. Giving back to those communities will always be characteristic of how we do business. We are a company born in Wisconsin and we plan to give back to this great state in as many ways as we can. If you were to peek inside Hallman/Lindsay Paints for a day, we think you'd see that we try to let our mission and core values guide how we do business every day.

Our Mission

Our mission is to partner with our customers to achieve a positive outcome for each painting project by providing high quality products, superior business support and a caring staff.

Our Values

Humility. We humbly strive to serve you well.

Passion. We are passionate about our products and our industry.

Unity. We work as one strong and united body.

Servanthood. We actively participate in every community we serve, striving to improve the quality of life for each person in that community.

Thankfulness. We are thankful for you and work diligently to establish relationships of trust, cooperation, and mutual respect for each customer.

These values are listed on the walls of each of our stores. What do they really mean? They mean simply that we care. We are a small business, and our values are what truly set us apart.
