Bob Brown shared the photo of this moose he took Wednesday. The DNR website states moose antlers sometimes measure five feet across and weigh up to 40 pounds.

FALL COLORS BONUS

Rutting or mating season occurs from mid-September to mid-October, according to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources website. In May or June, cows give birth to a 25- to 35-pound calf. The moose is Minnesota’s largest wild animal, and Minnesota is one of the few states that have moose. The largest member of the deer family, averaging 950 to 1,000 pounds and sometimes exceeding 1,200 pounds. Moose have rather poor eyesight, but acute senses of smell and hearing.

Rainy Lake rock markers removed

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT

Koochiching County Sheriff Brian Jespersen reported Wednesday that all rock markers on Rainy Lake handled by the Sheriff’s Office have been removed for the season. The office handles the white buoys marked with the word “rock,” Jespersen explained. The red and green navigational markers are handled by the U.S. Coast Guard Lamplighters, civilian employees who manage the inland waters of northern Minnesota. Jespersen urges boaters to use caution while traveling on Rainy Lake.

DNR QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Q: While hunting this fall, can I carry a shotgun for turkey and a bow for deer?

A: No. It is unlawful to possess a firearm while archery deer hunting. This applies to bow hunters with a crossbow permit as well. The exception is that if you have a permit to carry a handgun, you may have it while archery deer hunting, but this provision does not extend to shotguns or rifles. If you’d like to use a shotgun for turkey, you’ll need to take your bow home, back to camp or secure it in a vehicle first.

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS

The UMD Center for Economic Development (UMD CED) is soliciting proposals from qualified individuals and organizations to enter into contracts to participate in a consulting pool from which UMD CED clients and consultants will be matched so the client can receive business consulting services from UMD CED.

This project is funded through the U.S. Department of Commerce Economic Development Administration (EDA), and local funds of Koochiching County and the City of International Falls to help the Region recover from the permanent workforce reduction at the Boise Paper Mill in 2013. Areas of consulting expertise UMD CED is seeking include, but are not limited to, business feasibility analysis and studies, strategic planning, legal and accounting consultation, website development, marketing consulting and providing export assistance. Other specialized services may be provided based on client request, consultant expertise, and available funding. Services are generally provided at the International Falls SBDC office located at the Koochiching Economic Development Authority (KEDA), the client's business site, or via electronic methods. Projects for this grant funded initiative must be located in Koochiching County.

Contractual consultants for UMD CED are paid for their services to qualified clients based on the number of direct contact and meeting preparation hours provided on the client's behalf. UMD CED will not pay consultants for this initiative travel time, travel mileage, or for required consultant record keeping and administrative tasks. While the UMD CED does provide some tools and training to assist the consultant with their consulting engagements, consultants are generally expected to possess the equipment (computer, software, telephone) and training necessary to engage in and support consulting engagements. Clients' cases are assigned to consultants at the sole discretion of the UMD CED Director or her designee based on the consultant's ability to address the business issue identified by the client and availability of the consultant to meet the time commitment required. Consultants are not expected to accept all client engagements assigned to them but will be expected to accept some clients to remain active in the consulting pool. All consultants will be required to sign a Code of Professional Conduct which may restrict the consultant's ability to provide consulting assistance to UMD CED clients separate from UMD CED (Code of Professional Conduct form is available upon request). All individuals/ organizations providing consulting services will be required to provide a valid taxpayer identification number.

Proposal for providing services to UMD CED shall contain at minimum the following:

1. Name of individual/organization responding to the request for proposal and a primary contact person for the proposal

2. Additional contact information as necessary to contact the above individual (e-mail address, telephone number, mailing address)

3. Name(s) of proposed consultant(s) and qualifications to provide consulting services to UMD CED clients. Include industry experience, skills and training; business discipline experience, skills and training; and one-on-one or small group consulting experience, skills and training for each proposed consultant

4. Include names of three references each for the above named consultant(s)

5. Indicate approximately how many hours monthly you are able/willing to allocate to providing services to the clients of UMD CED (hours projected does not obligate you or UMD CED to a commitment of those hours)

6. Indicate your normal billing rate for technical assistance/ consulting services.

Proposals are due by October 15, 2014
