

Making memories at Pioneer Days

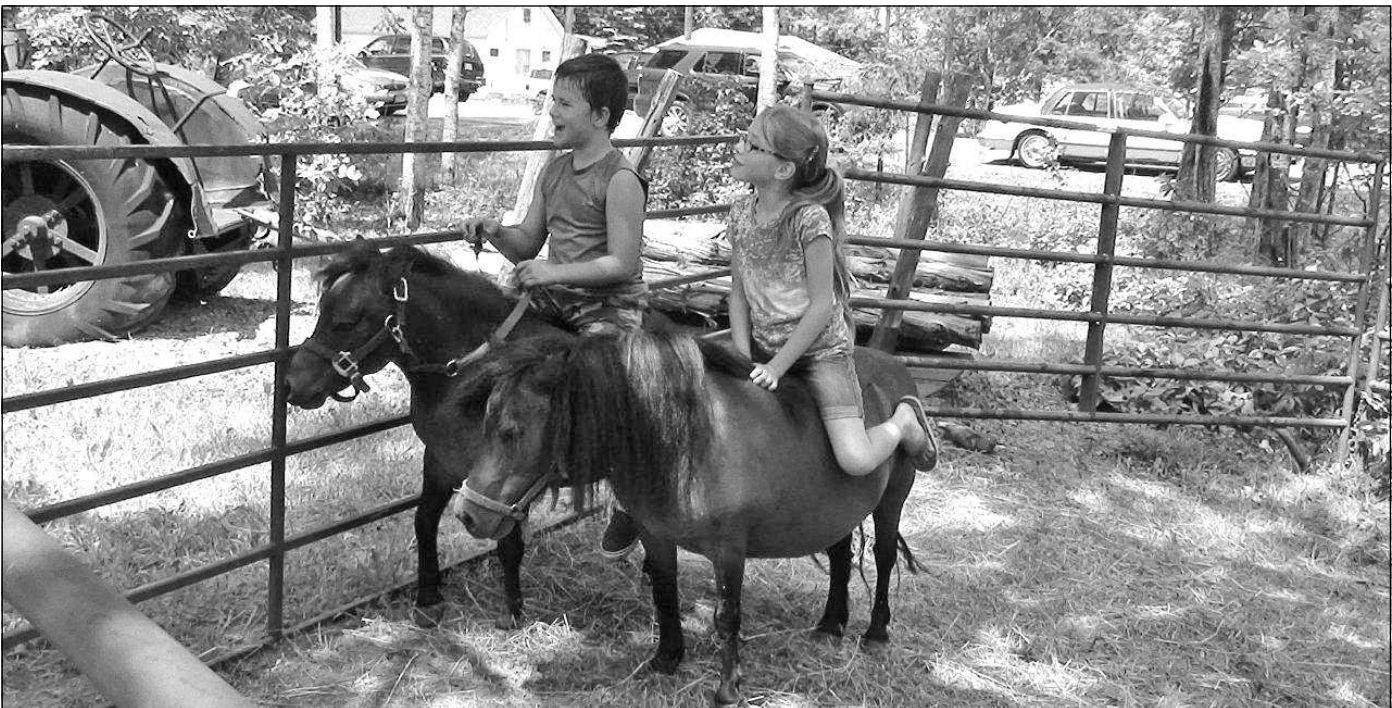

The 13th annual old-time Birchdale Pioneer Days, that took place last weekend, featured antique tractor and car shows, live old-time music and a black powder shooting activity. According to Soren Olesen, one of the event's organizers, despite the hot, sunny weather and many other area events taking place during the same time, several people gathered in the small community to enjoy a weekend of fun for the entire family.

Stephannie and Justin Schiro of Williams, offer free rides on their miniature horses.

Tom VanDamme keeps a close eye on his goats, which were part of the petting zoo.

Youngsters take Mike Ramsey's miniature horses for a ride Saturday during Pioneer Days in Birchdale.

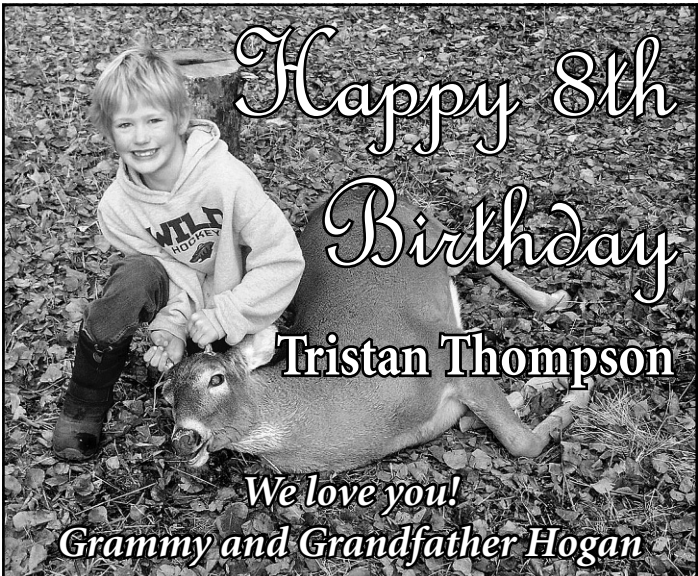

The sister band "Crowes in Boots" from Saleom, sings at the family-oriented event.

A participant tries his luck in the black powder shooting activity — a favorite of many festival goers.

ON THE ANNIVERSARY OF MOTHER'S HOME GOING

Mother, it's been a year now since we saw your smiling face.
Yet each day brings us closer to that heavenly embrace.

We're grateful for advice given that forever charts our way.
Our confidence is in Jesus for you taught us how to pray.

We still remember, fondly, the twinkle in your eye,
But you grew so tired and had to say good-bye.

It's okay, we'll carry on because of truth that you instilled.
To follow Jesus closely and with His Spirit to be filled.
