Koochiching County Commissioner Wade Pavleck explains the importance of Veterans Day to West End Elementary sixth graders Tuesday.

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT

West End Elementary sixth grade students braved the cold Tuesday afternoon to learn more about Veterans Day from local veterans.

Koochiching County Commissioner Wade Pavleck, along with county Veteran Service Officer Candance Ritch, gave a short presentation to the students emphasizing the importance of recognizing veterans.

Ritch and Pavleck, both veterans, challenged the students to thank veterans they see by shaking their hand and thanking them for their service. They also explained how the memorial near the county courthouse honors local veterans who have lost their lives serving in wars dating back to World War I.
