Paull and Lambert beat rain, win WISSOTA classes

BY ANTHONY LEEK
For The Journal

The weather forecast called for rain last Saturday night, but with a bit of luck and pouring rain only a mile west of the track, racing got underway at the Emo Speedway for the first time since June 7.

However, the facility wasn't left completely unscathed. Just as hot laps were about to start, a small cloud decided to spit a bit. After a 20-minute rain delay, the track was ready to go.

With Greenbush Race Park having canceled earlier in the day, a couple WISSOTA Modifieds made the trip, including Dustin Wahl and Aaron Holton. A driver from Winnipeg, Jerome Guyot, was also in attendance.

Guyot would pass points leader Jamie Davis for the win in heat one, while Gavin Paull led from start to finish in heat two.

In the WISSOTA Midwest Modifieds, Brady Caul captured his second heat win of the year.

In the Street Stocks heat, Kendal Gamsby started fourth and took the win.

The WISSOTA Midwest Modifieds had an amazing race in the second half, even after Cody Ossachuk's rear end was destroyed and Brady Caul slammed hard into the frontstretch wall. Christopher Leek and Chuck Chuck Lambert (60) held back Christopher Leek for the feature win last Saturday in the WISSOTA Midwest Modifieds at the Emo Speedway.

Kendal Gamsby (33) has continued his dominance in the Street Stocks taking wins in both the heat and the feature last Saturday at the Emo Speedway.

Lambert dueled it out for 10 laps with Lambert hanging on for dear life taking his first win of 2014.

In the Street Stocks, Gamsby dominated the feature just like the heat, having started in fourth position and taking an early lead. Libby Wilson, on her return back to the track started third and placed a solid second position finish.

The show of the night was in the WISSOTA Modifieds. A total of 14 cars started the race with Paull on the pole after having two Did Not Finishes (DNFs) on June 7 due to mechanical issues.

As the race went green, Paull took a huge lead over Davis but a caution came out on lap nine which tightened everyone back up.

Generally, cautions breed cautions and a couple spins occurred causing a couple quick restarts. Before the last caution, Davis had got by Paull for the lead, but due to the lap not being completed, Gavin Paull (16) won both the WISSOTA Modified heat and the feature last Saturday at the Emo Speedway.

Paull was able to get it back. With five laps to go, Paull held off a hard driving Davis as he tried every which way to get around for the top spot. They were side-by-side for the last couple laps, but Paull was able to hold on for his first win of the year in only two nights of racing.

Racing resumes tonight with the AMSOIL Qualifiers and Midseason Shootout. Hot laps begin at 7 p.m. with racing starting at 7:30 p.m. More information about the races at the Emo Speedway can be found on the World Wide Web at www.borderlandracing.com or on Twitter @EmoSpeedway.
