JOURNAL STAFF REPORT

Falls Elementary students, teachers, and parents trekked down Thirteenth Street from Kerry Park to the school Wednesday morning, as part International Walk to School Day.

Police cars escorted the group down the street, as kids got a chance to stretch their legs and burn some calories before the school day started. They also took the opportunity to chat, laugh, and socialize with their classmates.

The group of students, teachers, and parents take up the entire street during Walk to School Day Wednesday.
