BOYS HOCKEY

Elson could lose head coaching job

School board to consider resolution

BY KEVIN BONESKE
Sports Editor

The International Falls boys hockey team could face having its fourth different head coach in five seasons following Monday's school board meeting.

A resolution for non-renewal of Bruce Elson as the head boys hockey coach for 2013-14 is on the board's agenda.

Elson has been the Bronco boys hockey head coach the past two seasons, compiling a 27-23-4 overall record with a pair of winning seasons and finishing 12-11-4 last season.

Elson did not return phone calls prior to the production deadline for today's edition when The Journal attempted to contact him for comment.

Falls superintendent Nurdy Nelson said the board's vote on the resolution would not affect Elson being able to remain as a physical education teacher in the district for the next school year.

When asked about what led to the recommendation forwarded to the board that Elson not return as the head boys hockey coach, Nelson said it was a "personnel matter" and an "administrative decision," but declined to elaborate on the reasons for the proposed non-renewal.

"I'll just leave it at that," Nelson said.

In the event the board would approve the resolution, which states the superintendent would be authorized to sign a letter "setting forth the reasons for the non-renewal," Nelson said Elson would have 14 days to request a hearing to appeal.

Prior to the board's vote Monday, Nelson said members of the public who are in favor or against Elson's non-renewal would have an
