Republican Leadership Extends Best Wishes Following Senator Garrett's Resignation

COLUMBIA, S.C. — On Friday, State Senator Billy Garrett submitted his irrevocable resignation from the Senate, effective April 6, 2027, citing health-related issues. The delayed effective date enables Senator Garrett's staff to continue serving the constituents of Senate District 10 through the date of the special election. Senator Garrett has chosen to forgo any compensation for Senate service during 2027.

Senate President Thomas Alexander released the following statement:

"Together with the citizens of Greenwood, Lexington, and Saluda counties, I extend my heartfelt gratitude for Senator Garrett's service in the Senate and pray for his continued improvement. While I am saddened to see a friend depart this august body, I know that Senator Garrett is doing what he's always done: seeking the best for South Carolina."

Senate Majority Leader Shane Massey added:

"South Carolina is better because Billy Garrett has served. He is a terrific gentleman with a wonderful family and a heart for helping people. Senator Garrett loves serving in the Senate and cares greatly for the people of Greenwood, Lexington, and Saluda. I know he will miss the work, we in the Senate will miss his presence, and all of South Carolina will miss a dedicated public servant. I look forward to working with him until his successor is elected and wish him only the best going forward."
