NOTICE PUBLIC NOTICE

Pursuant to the Surface Mining Conservation and Reclamation Act, the Noncoal Surface Mining Conservation and Reclamation Act, the Clean Streams Law, and the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection, notice is hereby given that Neiswonger Construction, Inc., 17592 Route 322, Strattanville, PA 16258 has made application to the Bureau of District Mining Operations, 286 Industrial Park Road, Ebensburg, PA 15931-4119, to revise existing Large Noncoal Surface Mine Permit #3220301, known as the Sewickley Mine. The purpose of the revision is to delete 9.9 acres from the extreme eastern end of the permit that have not been affected and add 9.9 acres to the southwestern corner of the current permit to allow for mining in the added area. The 9.9 acre adjustments are both on the property of FLC Properties, LLC.

The 339.0 acre permit is located in Young Township, Indiana County, as shown on the U.S.G.S. 7 1/2' McIntyre and Avonmore quadrangle maps, 15.5 inches north and 1.3 inches west of the bottom right hand corner of the printed area of the Avonmore quadrangle map, approximately 1.7 miles southwest of West Lebanon, on the north and south sides of SR 3023. Neiswonger Construction, Inc. will continue to surface mine limestone, conduct blasting activities, and discharge treated water to unnamed tributaries to Whisky Run, Whisky Run, and Nesbit Run.

The receiving streams have Chapter 93 classifications of Cold Water Fisheries. There is topographic drainage to Harpers Run from the existing permit area, but there will be no discharge of treated water to Harpers Run as a result of this boundary correction. The application, plans, and other data concerning this revision have been placed on file for public review at the above listed office of the Bureau of District Mining Operations.

Anyone wishing to submit comments or requests for an informal conference concerning this application for revision should write to the above listed Bureau of District Mining Operations address within thirty (30) days of the final publication of this notice stating his or her name, address, telephone number, and the nature of their comment. #### SUCCESS REQUIRES TWO GOOD PLAYS

Wendell Johnson was a psychologist, an actor and a proponent of General Semantics. He said, "Always and never are two words you should always remember never to use."

In bridge, you can rarely use the words always and never. But "two" is relevant to this deal.

What is the outcome in three no-trump after West leads his fourth-highest heart?

If you and your partner play regularly together, discuss using minor-suit transfers, although they come up rarely. Here, North could show game-going values, long diamonds and a singleton (or void) in hearts. These transfers are described on my website.

South starts with seven top tricks: two spades, two diamonds and three clubs. He will work on diamonds to get (at least) two more winners. Yes, he could lose four hearts and one diamond first — but only if West makes two good plays.

After East wins the first trick with his heart ace, he returns the nine, the higher of two remaining cards. This should tell West that South started with four hearts (or five, but then the contract would be unbeatable). When trying to establish a suit in which an opponent will get one trick, give it to him as quickly as possible. So, West must duck the second trick.

South will then cash his diamond ace. West needs to realize that East has to win a trick for another heart lead through South, and if that entry card is the diamond jack, West must unblock his queen. If he does not, declarer lets West win the second diamond with his queen and the contract makes with at least one overtrick. (If South has the diamond jack, West's play is irrelevant.)

When West throws away his diamond queen, the contract must fail.
