Blasting Notice

Original Fuels, Inc., PO Box 343, Punxsutawney, PA 15767, proposes to conduct overburden blasting in compliance with all State and Federal Laws (as written within the "Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977") at its surface coal mining operation located:

Township: Perry County: Jefferson
Permit No.: 33120102
on the lands of Myra Davis, Frank Powell, Lindsey Coal Mining Co., and Joseph Brentzel. between the hours of: Sunrise to sunset every day except Sunday from February 13, 2025 to February 13, 2026.

Warning signs will be placed at every entrance to the operation, and, at least one (1) minute but not more than two (2) minutes prior to detonation, a warning signal of three (3) blasts, each lasting approximately five (5) seconds, will be sounded. One prolonged ten (10) second signal will be blown as an all-clear signal. Access road barricades will be erected prior to each detonation. Rain, lightning, or other atmospheric conditions, or operator, or public safety, are considered emergency situations and may require unscheduled detonation. If this occurs, identical warning and precaution measures will be taken.

TIPS TO HELP YOU WRITE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD

- IDENTIFY
Begin with the item for sale, service you are offering, or job title of the person you are looking to hire.
- DESCRIBE
The more information you provide the reader the better the responses. Put yourself in the buyer's place. What would you want to know?
- INCLUDE PRICE
Research shows that people are more interested when they know the price. If the price will be negotiable, say so.
- BE HOME
When you run your ad, be home or specify the hours that buyers can call.
- DON'T EXAGGERATE
List the features and the condition of the item. Make your description attractive and believable.

TRICKS, NOT LAUGHS, FROM HIGH AND LOW

Lao-tzu, a Chinese philosopher who died in 531 B.C., said, "When the highest type of men hear Tao, they diligently practice it. When the average type of men hear Tao, they half believe in it. When the lowest type of men hear Tao, they laugh heartily at it. Without the laugh, there is no Tao."

This week we are looking at the timeless principle that if you lead a low card from length, you guarantee at least one honor in that suit. With a weak suit, you lead an unnecessarily high card. This is no laughing matter, but there is one situation when the rule should be ignored — when you are leading partner's suit and you have not supported that suit. Then, giving length information is (usually) more important than strength information.

This deal is a textbook example. North passes as dealer, East opens one heart, and South leaps majestically to four spades.

If West leads the heart seven (top of nothing), East will think it is a singleton or high from a doubleton. He will win the first trick with the heart nine (low from touching cards when playing third hand high), take the heart ace, and try to cash the heart king. But South will ruff and run all of his trumps. There is no minor-suit squeeze, but declarer takes eight spades and two clubs.

Instead, West should lead the heart two, low from length in partner's unsupported suit. Then East, after taking two tricks in the suit, will know that West has the one extant heart. East will shift to the diamond two (low from an honor) and the defenders will take two tricks in that suit for down one.
