January riddleThe World's Most Baffling
"Milling" Puzzle

"What do you say, Ian, will you mill my corn for one-twentieth of the amount of corn I bring you?"

"Are you daft, Angus? You know full well that my price is one-tenth of the corn brought to my mill!"

Oh well, you can't blame Angus for trying. However, he's faced with a problem. How much corn must he bring to the mill so that after giving Ian his ten percent he will come away with exactly 100 pounds of cornmeal?

Assume there will be no waste during the milling.

The first 3 winners will receive a bottle top opener.
