

We are thrilled to announce the 2nd Annual Raise The Woof event to help raise funds for Kiya Koda Humane Society is set for Friday, May 8th at The Red Acre Barn in Prole. As many know, the shelter is full of animals in need and our current building itself is held together with bandaids. We need a new, bigger and more efficient space that offers more services in our community.

The 5.59 acres of land has been purchased and is PAID in full while the plans are being secured to build a new home. Diligent work has been done to make sure the new building is sustainable to keep running for another 50+ years. It is being designed to be half shelter and the other half will be revenue generating operations. It is crucial for our community and donors to be fiscally responsible for this worthy project. We are getting there and have raised 1 million dollars to date. The goal is 2.5million.
