NEWSPRINT

DESIGN & PRODUCTION

BEST PRACTICES AT A GLANCE

USE CMYK

Newsprint does not support Pantone or RGB colors. These colors, if used, will be converted to the appropriate CMYK percentage breakdown. Colors will not match Pantone or RGB upon reproduction.

RICH BLACK

Using 4 colors (C M Y & K) to produce a 'rich' black is unacceptable. Color shifts can create unwanted hues, and mis-registration of type becomes much more visible. Create Blacks and Grays with values of the K (Black) ink only.

PRESS QUALITY IMAGE RESOLUTION

Effective resolution for newsprint images is 200 DPI. Higher resolution only increases file size, dot gain and will not improve look of the printed material. Conversely, a resolution lower than 150 will affect the look of an image. The lower the resolution the more 'pixelated' an image will look.

TOTAL INK LIMIT OVER 220%

Newspaper printing is a 'non-heatset' offset process. It requires a maximum scanning density of 220%. This means, in the darkest area, when the percentages of Cyan, Magenta, Yellow & Black are added together the sum is at 220 or less.
