Pluralities of Voters Say Both Republicans and Democrats in Congress Aren't Standing Up To Trump Enough...

57% of US Voters Say Donald Trump Believes Himself to Be Above the Law; Growing Number Say Trump Does Not Respect the US Constitution; Whether or Not Elon Musk's DOGE is Acting Legally (36%) or Illegally (39%), Majority say Musk Cares More About Self than the American People:

While some portions of SurveyUSA's latest public opinion polling shows improving numbers for President Donald Trump in his second term of office as compared to when we asked some of the identical questions 8 years ago, there is movement in the opposite direction in some of these questions, asked of 1,705 registered voters nationwide.

8 years ago , 54% of voters said President Trump believed he was above the law and 34% said he did not believe so. Today, 57% say Trump believes he is above the law, 36% say he does not.

A slim four-point plurality in 2017 said that Donald Trump respected the US Constitution, 45% to 41%. Today, we see those numbers have flipped, with 46% saying Trump does not respect the Constitution and 44% saying he does, a 6-point swing.

66% of voters today agree that the US Constitution created three equal branches of government; 21% argue that the Constitution gives the President more power than it gives to Congress and the Supreme Court. That 45-point margin for three equal branches has fallen from a 55-point margin when the identical question was asked in 2017 .

While 51% in 2017 and 51% today both say Donald Trump cares more about himself than about the American people, we do see a small increase in those saying he cares more about the people: from 39% eight years ago to 42% today. Americans are evenly divided over who Joe Biden cared more about: 44% say himself, 43% the American people. When it comes to Elon Musk, however, 55% day Musk cares more about himself, 32% more about the American people.

Voters are divided about the actions of Musk's Department of Government Efficiency, with 39% saying DOGE's actions are illegal, 36% saying they are legal, and 25% just not sure.

43% of voters say Republicans in Congress aren't standing up enough to Donald Trump; 17% say they are standing up to Trump too much; 26% say Republicans in Congress are doing the right thing. A similar number, 41%, say Democrats in Congress aren't standing up to Trump enough, while 27% say they are standing up too much and 16% say they are doing the right thing.

About the Poll / Filtering / Tracking: SurveyUSA interviewed 2,000 US adults age 18+ online 02/13/25 through 02/16/25, using non-probability sample provided by Lucid Holdings LLC of New Orleans. Of the adults, 1,705 were identified as being registered to vote and were asked the questions which follow. The pool of adult survey respondents was weighted to US Census American Community Survey targets for gender, age, race, education, and home ownership, and to 2024 recalled vote. Click the "triangle-T" icon where it appears on the question numbers below to open SurveyUSA's exclusive interactive tracking graphs in new tabs to see how results have shifted since the identical questions were first asked by SurveyUSA 8 years ago.

Statement of Methodology: SurveyUSA is an independent, non-partisan, apolitical research company that conducts opinion surveys for media, academic institutions, commercial clients, non-profits, governments, agencies, and elected officials. SurveyUSA opinion research is conducted using a methodology optimized for each particular project. In some cases, this means data is collected 100% by telephone; in some cases, 100% online; and in other cases, a blend of the two. For those projects that are conducted “mixed-mode” (or “multi-mode”): Respondents who have a home (landline) telephone are interviewed by phone, sometimes using live interviewers, other times using the recorded voice of a professional announcer. The youngest male is requested on approximately 30% of calls to home phones, the youngest adult is requested on approximately 70% of calls. This method of intra-household selection reduces the potential for age and gender imbalance in the unweighted sample. Re-attempts are made to busy signals, no-answers, and answering machines. Landline telephone sample is purchased from Aristotle of Washington DC. Respondents who do not use a home telephone are interviewed on an electronic device, which means, for some projects, that call-center employees hand-dial cell phones and interview respondents verbally on the respondent’s cell phone, and means, for other projects, that SurveyUSA displays the questions visually on the respondent’s phone, tablet, or other device. Sample for respondents who do not use a home telephone is purchased from Aristotle or from one of several other research companies that provide access to cell respondents. Where meaningful, SurveyUSA indicates the percentage of respondents who use a home phone and the percentage who do not, and crosstabs by this distinction. Responses are minimally weighted to U.S. Census or voter file targets for gender, age and race. Target (cell) weighting is used. On questionnaires that ask about political party identification, SurveyUSA may or may not weight to Party ID, depending on client preference. Where necessary, questions and answer choices are rotated to prevent order bias, recency, and latency effects. On some studies, certain populations are over-sampled, so that the number of unweighted respondents exceeds the number of weighted respondents. Each individual SurveyUSA release contains the date(s) on which interviews are conducted and a release date. If interviewing for a particular study is conducted in Spanish, or in any other foreign language, it will be noted on the specific release. If no notation appears, interviews are conducted in English. Where respondents are filtered, such as adults, filtered to registered voters, in turn filtered to likely voters, SurveyUSA describes the filtering on the specific release. On pre-election polls in geographies with early voting, SurveyUSA differentiates between respondents who have already voted and those who are likely to vote but have not yet done so. On research completed prior to 12/31/16, SurveyUSA assigned to each question within the instrument a theoretical margin of sampling error. Effective 01/01/17, SurveyUSA assigns to each question within the instrument a credibility interval, which better reflects the sampling uncertainties associated with gathering some percentage of respondent answers using non-probability sample. Though commonly cited in the presentation of research results, “sampling error” is only one of many types of error that may influence the outcome of an opinion research study. More practical concerns include the way in which questions are worded and ordered, the inability to contact some, the refusal of others to be interviewed, and the difficulty of translating each questionnaire into all possible languages and dialects. Non-sampling errors cannot be quantified. This statement conforms to the principles of disclosure as recommended by the National Council on Public Polls (NCPP).
