Central Texas Votes for the BEST businesses and services

Central Texas residents are extremely involved with their neighborhood businesses and understand quality, which is why over 92,000 votes came in for this year's Best in Central Texas Readers' Poll.

Each year, we at the Daily Herald look forward to the Best in Central Texas Readers' Poll and publication. From receiving ballots to announcing the winners, we enjoy the opportunity to interact with our readers and Central Texas neighbors.

The process was initiated in September when we began publishing the official ballot in the Daily Herald and online at kdhnews.com. The ballot asks our readers to tell us where to find the best businesses and services in several different categories.

As part of the procedure, ballots are only counted if a name, address and phone number are provided. Ballots that do not have this information are discarded. We uphold this policy in an effort to prevent ballot box stuffing and to ensure the most accurate results to our survey.

Daily Herald readers were able to submit ballots through October 30.

Once the polls are closed, we begin to count the submitted votes.

Winners are placed into two categories: "Best" and "One of the Best." The first-place winner in a category is named "Best", and the three runners-up are named "One of the Best."

Every business that wins is given a certificate of recognition and the opportunity to purchase a banner with the official "Best in Central Texas" logo, which changes every year.

As you shop around town, go out to eat or have your vehicle serviced, you will notice these certificates and banners displayed by the businesses that won.

This gives the business credibility, since locals are the ones who voted for those establishments and made them the best in their category.

The Best in Central Texas Readers' Poll is a unique opportunity for us at the Killeen

Daily Herald to learn where our readers go to find the best products and services in the area.

We appreciate your participation and are amazed at the continued growth and interest in this poll. Each year, we receive more ballots than the last for this publication.

With excitement, we now announce the results of the Best in Central Texas Readers' Poll.

Thank you to our readers and congratulations to the winners! We look forward to counting your votes again next year.

Thank you, Killeen!

We want to show our appreciation for all the support and nominations we received as your favorite hearing care provider for 2018 and 2019 by offering you a lot in return.

Jennifer Cook (HCP) and Sandra Stagg at Connect Hearing in Killeen are extremely grateful for the recognition of their service to people with hearing difficulties in our community.

Together, our team know that it is not always easy to take the first step towards addressing hearing difficulties. So, we want to ensure that everyone has access to services and solutions that can deliver better hearing and a better quality of life.

Here are three great ways that you, or someone you care about, can get started on the path to better hearing, easier conversations, and enhanced social connections.

Proudly serving all military personnel

It is with great pleasure, that we, the Killeen Daily Herald, present this award to

Connect Hearing Killeen

for being voted THE BEST Hearing Aids

by the readers of the Killeen Daily Herald.
