

Spokane Public Schools

Good morning SPS families,

Late last night, we experienced a network security incident, which is currently being investigated. Out of an abundance of caution, we have chosen to take several of our systems offline. As a result, families may experience some service disruptions when requesting information from teachers or staff.

We will continue to provide updates.

Spokane Public Schools