

Federal funding issue clouds homeless site

The city legal department is researching a potential conflict of interest that could limit federal funding options for the Voluntary Action Center's proposed homeless services center. The problem: the property is owned by City Councilperson Betsy Peters.

Source: Missourian reporting

Jack Taylor/Missourian