

Boone County's new congressional district boundary

The new U.S. Congressional district map splits Boone County into two districts. The northern half will remain in the Fourth District, while the southern half will be in the Third District.

