

To My Love:

I finally found time to sit and write you this sunday morning and I'm sitting here thinking of you. Hoping you can come over this afternoon. We had a rough weekend this weekend but after our talk on Saturday evening. I feel a little better but still have some heart inside I believe in you with all my heart and I wish you would believe in me the same way. I love you with everything I am and I've told you this and for some reason you still can't trust me. and that also saddens me. You looked into my eyes and promised me you wouldn't sneak any more guys into your room in the middle of the night and I really really need you to keep your promise. You are my girl and I don't share well with others. and everything I put on the line for you and will be giving up. I need you to be devoted to only me. other wise you will lose my trust and me. I definitely don't want that to happen. I need to be able to trust you and you be there for me. I am always there for you. and you know that. I do wish I could be there 100% of the time but we both know that's impossible. I'm hoping you are mature enough for me. When I say mature I mean when you are having bad thoughts about us don't be going to party's and getting wasted and running around. I need you to be strong for me I really really hate you sneaking out of your house and going to parties. I know I asked you to stop and I don't mean to sound like a parent but there are too many things that can go wrong and you possibly getting hurt and I don't want that. I need you I hope I can sound like a concerned boyfriend because that's what I really am. I wish I could go with you and hold your hand as we walk up to the party and everyone would know that we were a couple really in love with each other. Because it's true I am really in love with you. my family life has been hell because I am doing what you asked. I do not lie to you I trust you to tell me everything so I tell you everything I may have little things but it's only because I don't think of them. I love the letters you write to me and the phone calls when you are on the bus that lets me know that you are thinking of me. And I wish there was a way I could call or email you during the day because I think of you and how much love I have for you from the moment I wake up until the moment I go to bed I still look at your pic every night and touch your cheek and whisper I love you. I know you can't hear me but it makes the love I have for you come out a little before bed. Like I have said before I would do anything for you but I need you to be there for me and I am there for you. And if it is too hard on the pain it ways the love and you need to move on I would understand but I do want to be your everything. I love you so very much I cant even put it into words and I never want that feeling to die. I try to express my love to you every short period of time we have together I loved that day where you layed on my chest and looked into my eyes and you told me you love me. You made my heart race and the love was over flowing. And I know you felt the same way. Just to look at you turns me on and those blue eyes looking into mine drives me crazy. I love your long legs and they connect to a beautiful ass that I love to grab because I feel its all mine love your stomach and your beautiful chest that I love to grab and squeeze because it turns you on I love your face and your long hair I rub my hand through I love your neck I love to kiss it all over your smile drives me crazy so to summarize I love everything about you! Please always be there for me and I promise to always be there for you. I hope this letter makes you smile. I finally put my feeling on paper for you. cant wait to see you again love me 4. 0 1
