Trusted. Prepared. Local.

Sarah E. Ober is a criminal defense attorney based in Albion, Indiana. She serves clients across Noble, Kosciusko, LaGrange, DeKalb, Steuben and Whitley counties, offering clear legal guidance and strong courtroom advocacy. In addition to her private practice, Sarah is a public defender in Noble County, where she represents individuals in need with the same energy and care she brings to every client.

Sarah is known for being the most prepared person in the courtroom. She takes pride in her work and brings a calm, focused presence to each case. Clients appreciate her personal attention, her honesty, and the respect she shows every step of the way. She works hard because the stakes are high, and because she believes everyone deserves someone in their corner.

Whether you are facing charges, trying to fix a mistake from the past, or need help getting your license back, Sarah will meet you where you are, explain your options, and fight for your future.

Outside the courtroom, Sarah is a part of the northeast Indiana community. She understands how local courts work, what judges expect, and how to give clients the best chance at a fair outcome.
