

My Dream Job

By: Daniel Gramond

My dream job is opening my own donut shop. I want to have my own donut shop because I like to bake. I can work at a donut shop for my whole life and not get bored making donuts. Having your own donut shop is making donuts and with your own recipe and place.

I plan to achieve it first by, when I am a senior in High School I will work at Dunkin Donuts to learn how to make donuts. Then I will be there for two to three years to perfect how I make my donuts and so I will also know what flavors the people most like and what things they most order to put in the menu. Then I will open my own shop named Daniel's Donuts. If people like to get in the afternoon I will open it when it is about to be afternoon. If people like it in the morning and afternoon I will make it a twenty-four hour. I will also search how much it costs and all I need to gain to do it and if I need to go to high school or to college and will study my best and have the best grades to have a scholarship.

Next I will go to college and I will pick a career that is about how to open your own business and how to save money and will try to get a scholarship to gain money. Then I will change jobs for one that pays more to make it faster. I will try to get one more job that is on the weekends that has less hours for me to not always be busy then when I have enough money I will buy a property, then buy all the tools to make donuts like the molds and the toppings.

Then I will ask family members to help me make the donuts or have employees. I will then decorate the outside and inside and tell people to visit it, and if people start getting there with that money I will promote the donut shop.

Also I will make other donut shops in different places. Then when people visit more I will add things to the menu like coffee, I will give little toys for those who buy donuts, and add milkshakes too. Next when the donut shop becomes popular I will use one of the donut shops and make it bigger to put an area for kids to play and make more space for more people.

Next according to google a person that has a donut shop that is succeeding gains gains," $100,000 to $500,000 dollars per year." And monthly $8,000 to $42,000 dollars so I think I can give a great future to my kids.

In conclusion, that is my dream job and this is how I will achieve it, also I will make this by when I am thirty years old.
