Free Stuff for Freshmen!

Freshmen: you're in college. You may have heard this is a time to pinch pennies and become more responsible, but worry not! Because LMU loves you, you can expect to get a lot of free stuff, so be prepared to add a couple incredibly useful things to your dorm room!

Many, Many T-Shirts

You'll get a lot of shirts. Shirts to sleep in and work out in (if you make it to the gym). They'll all say LMU on them so you can proudly display your freshman pride when you wear them on or off campus.

Lion-Themed Toys

Lion stuffed animals are so in this year! They'll even come with little shirts so you can dress them, just like you dressed dolls as kids. You'll never get tired of Iggy the Lion's blank stare greeting you from your shelf every time you walk into your dorm.

Mason Jars

Being a hipster is now cheaper than ever. You'll have mason jars to drink from, put pins in, flowers, tissues, condoms, vegan power bars, you name it! Use them to decorate your room or leave them around your kitchen to annoy your roommates.

High Levels of Stress

Stress is just another one of those things LMU doesn't skimp out on for its darling freshmen. It comes in all forms! Academics stress, social life stress, even the notorious stress about whether or not LMU's basketball team will win their game.

Weight

LMU likes to shower its freshmen with free food. From bagels to ice cream, LMU really spares no expense. Therefore, you'll probably gain some cute weight. Don't even feel the need to thank us! We just love spoiling our new guppy freshmen.
