With St. Patrick's Day coming up, students are planning all sorts of crawls and parties to attend to get in the spirit. Whether you're going to Brennan's at 4 a.m. or making green Jell-O shots for your party, it's always nice to have a backup plan for when things go south. Here is a map of some popular L.A. bars that will be part of city-wide events or local block parties and will help you get the most out of this Saturday's festivities.
