Hold on to your cowboy hats!

The Malvern Round Up Club's 73rd Annual Malvern Rodeo is riding into town this Friday, Sept. 11, and Saturday, Sept. 12 at the Hot Spring County Fairgrounds Rodeo Arena.

This year's rodeo is locally sponsored by J.A. Funk Funeral Home, Mike's Tobacco, Bailey's Towing, Southern Bancorp, Hwy 270 Grill, Valdivia Brothers and Central Arkansas Telephone Coop (CATC).

Regular events begin at 8 p.m. each night, with a children's Mutton Bustin' preceding the action at 7:30 p.m. Other events include bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, break-away roping, steer wrestling, barrel racing, bull riding, junior barrel riding, team roping and a calf scramble.

With over 20 years experience as a professional rodeo clown, professional barrelman and bull riding entertainer Dustin "The Jester" Jenkins will bring his unique brand of showmanship to the Malvern arena this weekend. Based in Marshfield, Missouri, he has received multiple awards and is renowned for "clowning around" at some of the industry's biggest events. With his high-energy presence, Jester loves to make people laugh, especially when they need it most.

Tickets for the rodeo can be purchased at local businesses including the Hot Spring County Farmer's Co-op, Southern Bancorp, Mike's Tobacco, Hwy 270 Grill in Poyen and Valdivia Brothers' Dyer Street and Highway 270 food truck locations.

Admission is $5 for advance tickets, or $8 at the gate; kids 10 and under are admitted free.
