

Growth forecast under tax plan

The nonpartisan Tax Policy Center predicts that the Republican tax plan will increase Gross Domestic Product (GDP) by nearly a percentage point next year and slow to a negligible effect in 2027, when many provisions are set to expire.

SOURCES: Congressional Budget Office; Tax Policy Center

AP