Subject: Racist resolution

I cannot believe an "institution of higher learning" is even considering introducing a such a ridiculous resolution as the one you are proposing banning Critical Race Theory.

This is pandering to the worst of America's past. If you truly "oppose discrimination in any form", then you should be teaching your students about the systemic racism that is part of America's past and present, so that they can work towards a better future.

Slavery, Jim Crow laws, lynchings, and horrific oppression of people of color occurred in the United States. Stop trying to "whitewash" our past. Otherwise the University of Nebraska will be known as a racist institution of the lowest learning.
