

Lisa J. Smith

Region Manager, Metro South Region • Georgia Power

Lisa J. Smith serves as region manager for Georgia Power's Metro South Region, where she leads the company's operations in serving more than 265,000 customers in the southern crescent of metropolitan Atlanta. She is responsible for region operations, sales, customer service, economic and community development, and external affairs activities.

assistant to the senior vice president of the Metro Atlanta Region, where she was responsible for providing support for the company's operations, sales, customer service, economic and community development, and external affairs activities for 1.2 million customers.

A native of Meridian, Miss., Smith earned a bachelor's degree in electri-

Smith began her career with Georgia Power's parent company, Southern Company, at Mississippi Power as an engineer in 1993. She relocated to Georgia Power in 1997, where she has held positions of increasing responsibility in distribution, sales, region operations and as area manager in Waynesboro and Newnan. Prior to her current role, Smith served as cal engineering from Mississippi State University and an MBA from Kennesaw State University. She has served as a member of the board of directors for the Newnan-Coweta Chamber of Commerce and Fayette Education Foundation, and as vice president of the boards of both the Central Educational Center and Communities In Schools.