

Onamia Days went on despite what Mother Nature dealt

Onamia Days, 2025
The town of Onamia once again kicked off the slate of summer festivals around the big lake when it staged their annual "Onamia Days" celebration on June 13-15. Although Mother Nature tried to put a wrench in the festivities with colder and wetter than normal conditions throughout much of the three-event, most of the events went off as scheduled, including the street dances, medallion hunt, the carnival rides and the grand parade. Below is a pictorial of some of the highlights of this years Onamia Days fun.

He found the money
Ethan Hemann of Oakdale posed for a picture with his son at the site of where he found the medallion worth $500 during the Onamia Days festivities.
