

Celebrating 20 years of making homes beautiful

Mother-daughter team Sarah Corrigan and Mary Kay first opened the door of their unique home decor and floral boutique in 2003. Now, 20 years later, The White Hare has grown into a two-story, 13,000-square-foot showroom that features a design center, an expansive shopping space and a large selection of furniture with price points for everyone. They are also known for their distinct home accessories, gifts, and an extensive, top-notch floral selection with custom floral design services.

At The White Hare, customers can find everything from furniture to clothing to rugs to dishware.

The store also offers an in-home design service, which helps clients design a new space or add finishing touches to an existing one.

“We come to your home and go over the areas you would like to improve,” Sarah said. “We then schedule another day when we return with a selection of items specifically for your space. It’s that easy!”

The White Hare prides itself on its personalized service and fair prices – which keeps loyal and dedicated customers coming back time and again.

“We emphasize customer service and getting our clients exactly what they want and need,” added Sarah. “We are always changing and striving to have the most creative displays and newest products out there. It’s not uncommon for a customer to come to the store three times in a month, and it looks different each time.”
