

Keeping your home HIGH & DRY

For nearly two decades, High & Dry Foundation Repair has been a trusted name in the St. Louis metro area, known for its honest approach and deep expertise in foundation repair leaking basements, cracked concrete, and settling or bowing foundation walls. Its team is highly trained and non-commissioned, meaning recommendations are based solely on what's needed, not what's profitable. The company uses top-tier, American-made materials and cutting-edge technologies, including carbon fiber reinforcement systems, all backed by a lifetime transferable warranty.

Tom and Cindy Ely, owners

With an A+ rating from the Better Business Bureau and a reputation for doing things the right way, the family behind High & Dry Foundation Repair continues to stand out – not only for what they fix, but for how they treat people. They know trust matters as much as technical skill.

"We strive to provide industry-leading customer service," Tom said. "We're going to recommend to the customer what they need – and nothing more."

and waterproofing. Founded in 2006 by Tom and Cindy Ely, the company has remained family-owned and operated, with both of their sons – Greg and Weston – playing key roles in its continued success. February 2026 marks 20 years of their dedication to the business, a testament to the strength of family and the value of long-term commitment.

Greg oversees the labor and crews, ensuring every job is done with precision and care. Weston leads sales and marketing, helping homeowners understand their options and make confident decisions. Together, the Ely family has built a company that prioritizes integrity over upselling, and craftsmanship over shortcuts.
