

Celebrating 60 years of trusted sales & service

Slyman Brothers Appliances, the area's "most trusted name in major home appliances" is celebrating its 60th Anniversary this year – and its customers are getting the gifts: knowledgeable family members, superior customer service, reliable and luxury brands and service after the sale.

"We provide an exceptional and effortless buying experience while exploring our beautiful showrooms with extensive product offerings for all project levels," said Chris Slyman, president. "We provide appliances for residential new builds, replacement appliances and home remodels along with multi-family and commercial spaces. We carry all major brands including luxury brands like Sub-Zero and Wolf, and Viking.

"But perhaps our greatest attribute is that Slyman is still family owned and operated! The third generation of six grandchildren are now running and working in the business, which is unheard of these days. They're just as committed to serving our customers and the community as Bob and Harry were – it's a legacy of service that generations of customers have come to trust."

Reviews on the company website highlight the staff's commitment to helping customers find exactly what they're looking for to fit their unique needs and budgets. Phrases that come up repeatedly are excellent, knowledgeable, satisfied and easy. Can you ask for anything more?

Plus, the affordability of Slyman Brothers gets high marks from its customers. See for yourself what the company can do for you by visiting one of their four locations: The recently expanded location at 5757 S. Lindbergh Blvd. in South County • The new Sub-Zero, Wolf and Cove showroom in West County at 14755 Manchester Road • The original St. Louis location at 4900 Hampton Ave. • or at 52 Crossroads Plaza in O'Fallon, Missouri.
