

Dedicated to the communities it serves

"We're from here. We live here. And we love it here."

MRV Bank is dedicated to serving consumers and small businesses throughout Missouri. Its owners and investors are all local, too. That's why every decision it makes is made with its communities in mind. MRV Bank believes in supporting local economies, organizations and businesses so it can create a better place to live.

"Our branch is staffed with knowledgeable, friendly, local employees," MRV Bank Market President Garrett Watson said. "We take pride in providing the best products and services for our customers. We also take pride in our personal approach to banking and helping our clients make the best financial decisions possible."

"At MRV Bank, our business customers are small and local, just like us. They are the heart of our business, and we treat them with the importance they deserve. We make financing simple and easy to understand so owners can focus on their companies, and we offer a comprehensive product line and personalized services to help businesses thrive."

MRV Bank is one of the fastest growing banks in the region. CB Resource, Inc. a risk management firm, has ranked MRV Banks first on its CB Top Ten™ list of community banks with similar assets.

When people bank locally, their money stays in and benefits their own community. Big banks send their profits out of town. MRV Bank invests to support local economies, organizations and businesses. When customers are ready to organize their finances and plan for future needs, MRV is here to help. To learn more, contact the St. Charles branch.
