

The perfect destination for every occasion

Heading to historic St. Charles during the day? Stop at Magpie's Café on Main for lunch. Looking for a Friday or Saturday night spot with ambiance? Head to Magpie's Café on Main.

While summer may be too warm for Magpie's legendary Baked Potato Soup, it's the perfect time to indulge in one of its loaded salads for lunch. The Mediterranean Salad pairs mixed greens with kalamata olives, sun-dried tomatoes, cucumber, feta cheese, roasted red peppers and red onions – all on a bed of hummus and dressed with a balsamic vinaigrette. It's a meal!

On Friday and Saturday nights, when the weather is right, guests can enjoy music on the patio and menu items from The Grill. Favorites include a perfectly seared and seasoned 10-ounce New York Strip Steak with herb compound butter, Ginger Glazed Salmon and Mediterranean Chicken with homemade tomato-basil pico and feta cheese.

This year, guests can also enjoy Magpie's Evening Teas. The monthly, themed events feature a variety of teas, scones, savories and sweets. Magpie's owner Bill Pieper advises patrons to watch the restaurant's website and Facebook page for details and to book their reservation.

"We usually hold the Evening Teas on a Sunday evening from 5-6:30 p.m.," said Pieper. "And so far, they've been very popular."

Also new on Sundays is an off-the-menu brunch featuring omelettes, French Toast, Nutella crepès, breakfast sandwiches, light salads, and drink specials, such as Bottomless Mimosas. If brunch sounds good, imagine hosting your next baby or wedding shower, birthday or anniversary party at Magpie's.

"We are happy to accommodate whatever our guests want – inside or on the patio, brunch, lunch or dinner, during our normal hours or after hours," Bill said. "Just give us a call to learn more."
