

Health, healing and hope

BJC HealthCare's commitment is reflected in the compassionate care it provides and the comprehensive services offered by Barnes-Jewish St. Peters and Progress West hospitals. But this commitment extends beyond the hospital walls – to give health, healing and hope to the community as a whole.

No one should ever have to worry about gaining access to the care they need to be healthy. The nonprofit Barnes-Jewish St. Peters & Progress West Foundation exists to relieve burdens to healthcare and increase access for those in need.

To break down barriers, the BJSP & PW Foundation provides:

- Transportation to and from necessary appointments.
- Financial support for co-pays and prescription costs.
- Vital medical equipment for home recovery when needed.
- Nutritional support for patients needing infusion treatments.

The Foundation also provides patients with multiple therapy services, such as plant, pet, massage and music therapy, to help them heal more comfortably while in the hospital. Helping caregivers be their best selves is yet another way that the Foundation ensures that Barnes-Jewish St. Peters & Progress West patients receive the best possible care.

In all of these efforts, the common denominator is you. Through your support of the BJSP & PW Foundation, you stand with others who believe in improving the health of our communities and creating access for all to the care they need.

On Sept. 28, the Health, Healing & Hope Gala will help raise much-needed funds to provide these healing resources. Tickets for the gala are on sale now and you are invited! To be a part of this life-changing effort, contact the BJSP & PW Foundation office at (636) 916-7138 or visit bjcstcharlescounty.org/foundation.
