

Stop by day or night for great food, good times

There's always something new at the Q.

Members' Room that seats up to 50 people and has its own bar in addition to a dining area. It's ideal for rehearsal dinners and events of that scale," Dennis said.

The restaurant's largest space, its rooftop patio, serves as an ideal location for wedding receptions, corporate events and large parties of roughly 100 people. Hosts can choose from bar packages, appetizers, buffets, full meals, and more, all produced by the restaurant's in-house catering team. Bartenders and serving staff are included. Complimentary parking is located behind the restaurant. Nearby parking is also available at the City of St. Charles' parking garage.

"If you're looking for a great place to celebrate a special occasion or enjoy a date night with live music and dancing, we have you covered. If you're looking for a quick lunch on Main Street, we can handle that too. Or if you just want to hang out on the rooftop and have some beers and nachos, we're here for you," Dennis said.

Quintessential Dining & Nightlife is a destination for live entertainment, rooftop dining, private banquet rooms, creative cocktails and delicious food on historic North Main in St. Charles.

"We serve everything from steaks and salmon to wraps and sandwiches to pizza and traditional appetizers. We also have seasonal cocktails and a large list of American and European wines," explained Dennis Dixon, general manager.

While known for its vibrant, nightclub atmosphere after dark, the restaurant has a casual vibe during the day, catering to local tourists and nearby office staff.

"We also have great spaces for private events, including our Wine Room, an intimate wine cellar space that holds about 25 people, and our
