

Looking to beat summer heat?

You may need better fans. Dan's Fan City on Manchester has exactly what you need – quality fans you won't find anywhere else, expertly installed and backed by local customer service from people who care.

"Our fans are not big box store quality," explained owner Kevin Keating. "Our products move more air, up to over 18,000 CFM, and are completely customizable to your home decor. But most importantly, we install for a perfect purchase from start to finish."

Kevin says the two most common mistakes homeowners make are not choosing the right fan for the space to be cooled and trusting installation to someone who "also does fans."

The results are fans that underperform and overvibrate.

"Fans should not shake or make noise," said Kevin, a career electrician. "If they do, they just aren't installed correctly. So before you overspend by hiring a handyman that 'also does fans,' call us. We'll be in and out quickly, so you can live a comfortable life and get on with being cool and enjoying your family functions."

While big-box stores offer only a few options from which to choose, Dan's Fan City has 78 fans on display and is expanding soon.

"We can customize everything from how much air a customer needs to move to fan finish, blade color and length to lighting, if wanted, to wall or hand-held controls to down rod length for tall ceilings," Kevin said.
