Adequate shelter means provision of and access to shelter that is suitable for the species, age, condition, size, and type of each animal; provides adequate space for each animal; is safe and protects each animal from injury, rain, sleet, snow, hail, direct sunlight, the adverse effects of heat or cold, physical suffering, and impairment of health; have enough shade to protect itself from any direct sunlight that is likely to cause overheating or discomfort; is properly lighted; is properly cleaned; enables each animal to be clean and dry, except when detrimental to the species; and, for dogs and cats, provides a solid surface, resting platform, pad, floor mat, or similar device that is large enough for the animal to lie on in a normal manner and can be maintained in a sanitary manner. Under this chapter, shelters whose wire, grid, or slat

When freedom of movement would endanger the animal, temporarily and appropriately restricting movement of the animal according to professionally accepted standards for the species is considered provision of adequate space.

Adequate water means provisions of and access to clean, fresh, potable water of a drinkable temperature which is provided in a suitable manner, in sufficient volume, and at suitable intervals appropriate for the weather and temperature, to maintain normal hydration for the age, species, condition, size and type of each animal, except as prescribed by a veterinarian or as dictated by naturally occurring states of hibernation or fasting normal for the species; and is provided in clean, durable receptacles which are accessible to each animal and are placed so as to minimize contamination of the water by excrement and pests or an alternative source of hydration consistent with generally accepted husbandry practices.

Sec. 6-77. - Rescue requirements.

Approved rescue groups can pull animals from the county animal services center. Pursuant to G.S. 130A-192(a), all animals are required to be held for an initial impoundment period of 72 hours. However, in the event that an animal is surrendered to county animal services, the animal may be released immediately. Following the initial impoundment period, animals will be held in the animal services center and made available for rescue by an approved rescue group or adoption by the general public as long as the health and temperament of the animal determines that it is suitable for rescue or adoption. This determination will be made by the animal services director and the decision will be final.

- (1) Following the transfer of an animal to an approved rescue group, county animal services will require that the animal be provided with the appropriate care that includes, but is not limited to, spay/neuter, updated vaccinations, and health reconditioning (if needed), etc.
- (2) Random audits will be performed by the animal advisory board to ensure proper care and recordkeeping of all approved rescue groups. During each audit, two approved rescues will be selected for audit review and required to provide all documentation to evaluate the health and welfare of the animals as determined by the animal advisory board.

If the audit shows an approved rescue group is not in compliance two times in two consecutive audits due to missing or incorrect documentation or refusal or failure to provide documentation, a warning will be issued, and the rescue given ten working days to produce additional documentation. If the rescue fails to produce requested documents or additional information to refute the audit, the animal services director may suspend the rescue's permission to pull animals from the animal services center. Time of suspension will be no less than six months. Re-evaluation of the rescue will be conducted by the animal services director. A second violation will warrant a 12-month suspension, and any additional violations will mean permanent revocation.

- (3) Suspended rescue appeals process for reinstatement. A rescue group may appeal this decision to the board of commissioners by written notice delivered to the clerk to the board within three business days after receipt of the director's decision.

- (4) Rescues must obtain and maintain nonprofit, tax-exempt status as a 501(c)(3).
- (5) In order to be considered for approval as an approved rescue group by county animal services, groups must submit the county animal services' rescue application, along with three letters of reference, one of which must be submitted by a state licensed veterinarian with preference given to rescues that can also provide references from other North Carolina-based animal shelters. County animal services will notify the applicant group of its decision to approve or deny the application. If the application is denied, county animal services will state any deficiencies that resulted in the decision to deny approval of the application.
- (6) All adoptable animals are available on a first-come, first-serve basis. Priority will be given to adoptions by individuals over transfer to approved rescue groups or foster.
- (7) To ensure that all information is recorded accurately and efficiently, county animal services will require that all interaction with approved rescue groups must be completed via email at animalservices@burkenc.org. All phone calls and in-person contact will be referred to the email address.
