Previous Illinois Marathon winner Jaime Marcos, from Champaign, crosses the Gies Memorial Stadium finish line in third place on Saturday.

CHAMPAIGN — Jaime Marcos entered the 2026 Illinois Marathon with high expectations.

Those come with the territory after having won the race in 2024 and 2025.

But Marcos' winning streak came to a close on Saturday as the Dr. Howard Elementary School gym teacher settled for third place with a time of 2:21:12.

"I've never felt this good finishing a marathon," Marcos said after crossing the finish line at Gies Memorial Stadium. "I was really confident there in the last two miles, and just kind of took care of the rest from there. It was a nice day."

Lake Bluff native Benjamin Rosa won the marathon with a time of 2:18:25, with Chelsea, Mich., product Eric Westog rounding out the podium by finishing in 2:20:27.

Marcos was happy with his effort given his bout with a hamstring injury in December.

"The last two years, I went out and I just raced to win," Marcos said. "And that's a good way to do it. I would have loved to win today, but I'm at the point in my career where I need to have some wins. And if you're always going for the first place win, there's a risk there."

Monday.

"The kids, they think if you don't win then you suck," Marcos said. "But I'll take a top three for sure. I'm happy with it, and I saw a lot of kids in the crowd and families, and that was my favorite part of the entire race."

The Urbana High School cross-country program had plenty of alums participating in the 17th Christie Clinic Illinois Race Weekend.

But none made a bigger splash than 2022 Urbana graduate Park Mitchell, who became the first runner to cross the finish line Saturday morning when he won the men's 10K race in 33:41.

"We got out to a pretty early lead," Mitchell said. "At that point, I just settled the first three miles because I didn't want to get embarrassed in the second half. So in the second half, I had a lot more in the tank and I just pushed it all the way through."

Urbana cross-country coach Zach Boehmke was close behind, taking third-place honors with a time of 35:31.

"It was a little windy for the majority of the time in our face," Boehmke said. "But I just wanted to run with him for a little bit. Proud of what he's doing out here. He's in great shape. It's good to see. It was a great day to run."

Mitchell departed the start line just after 8 a.m. on First Street in Champaign, when conditions were near their coolest point of the day.

Temperatures were just above 50 degrees when the 10K began, with overcast skies and a thin fog. They also helped former University of Illinois track runner Halle Hill win the women's 10K in 38:25.

Running in front of a hometown crowd helped too.

"Everybody was super helpful," Mitchell said. "I started after the marathon (started), so it's great for everybody who's a part of the race kind of moving out of the way and helping me out. And everybody just cheers along. It's a great community environment, you feel the support."

CHRISTIE CLINIC ILLINOIS RACE WEEKEND

as runners packed C-U for a full slate of events

Bloomington native Nick Doud competed collegiately at Butler and Illinois State before finishing his college career in 2024.

That experience helped prepare him for a blazing 1:05:30 in Saturday's men's half-marathon, which outpaced fellow podium finishers Anthony Farmer (1:05:46) and Kallin Carolus-Khan (1:06:20) to give him the crown.

"I knew waking up this morning, it was great conditions," Doud said. "Especially here in Champaign, it's not a given to have low 50s and a little wind ... it was really nice to come in here and finish at the football field around this crowd and energy."

Doud's race truly began as he entered Meadowbrook Park in the second half of the course. He ran alongside Barber before pulling away in the final three miles.

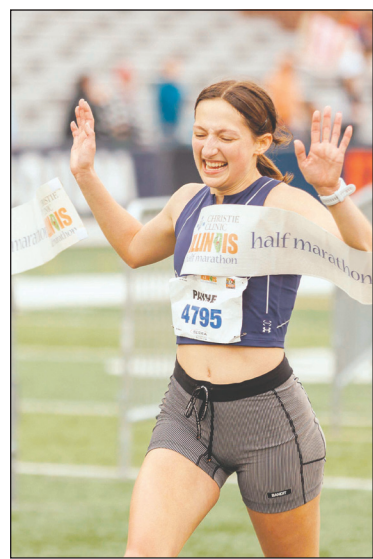

"I think they say that in a half-marathon, it's halfway at mile 10 and it felt like that today," Doud said. "I got to Meadowbrook Park and things were starting to really hurt. Just hung in there, took my last bit of fuel and regathered myself."

Doud recovered from a slight wrong turn in the 12th mile and won the race by a comfortable margin.

"Sometimes when you're hurting that bad, you kind of forget where you're going and you just want to be done," Doud said.

Saturday marked the first time that Doud had competed in an event during Christie Clinic Illinois Race Weekend. He doesn't anticipate that it will be his last.

"I just started racing on roads and this is my second-ever half-marathon," Doud said. "Definitely in the future, this will be a part of my calendar for sure."

Half-marathon runner Payne Turney, from Clinton, breaks the finish-line tape Saturday, claiming the women's first place trophy.

Payne Turney has competed in plenty of high-level races during her career.

The 2020 Clinton High graduate won a Class 2A state title in the 800-meter run in 2019, then set a Purdue record by completing a 5,000-meter run in 15:57.78 on March 28, 2025.

She added another trophy to her shelf on Saturday by winning the women's half-marathon in 1:14:11.

"I was fighting the urge to talk the entire time," Turney said. "I was running and I was like 'the trees are beautiful, the groups are looking good,' and it was just so fun. Honestly, I think what I loved the most was everybody cheering. It was a beautiful course out there."

Saturday was a homecoming of sorts for Turney, who now lives in the Quad Cities.

"Got to shout out the Central Illinois runners," Turney said. "I love to race. I don't know that comes next — maybe a 10K or another half-marathon. Just looking to see whatever's fun."

Most of Jordyn Cummins' running takes place in the wee hours of the morning on a treadmill.

But Saturday was a breath of fresh air for the mother of three, who completed the women's half-marathon in 1:22:22 to earn a podium spot with a third-place finish.

"Getting out to run (with) lots of people, there's nothing like it," Cummins said. "I work hard every morning, and it's paid off."

Cummins lives in Champaign and was eager to compete in her hometown race, having placed fourth in the 2025 edition of the half-marathon and competed during the weekend for several years.

"I just keep getting a PR and just keep working at it," Cummins said. "I realized I could really do something good here, and so I just decided to fully send it with this one and give everything I had."

Cummins encountered plenty of support along the course.

"Obviously you get a lot more people you know in town," Cummins said. "But running in an area you know, you know every area that's coming up and what's going to happen. You know where the suffering moments are and where you can fully send it."

Katie Fedoronko went to the UI before graduating in 2022 with a master's degree in architecture.

She was back in familiar surroundings on Saturday as she posted a strong time of 2:57:57 in the women's marathon to trail winner Mackenzie Barnett's time of 2:51:48.

"It's been really fun to be back here," Fedoronko said. "I love Champaign-Urbana."

She ran the 10K race in 2022 during a time when race weekend looked markedly different due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

"I think I ran quite a bit faster pace here in the marathon than I did in the 10K back then," Fedoronko said. "Conditions were really good, except for some wind in the last four miles that really broke a lot of people."

Her coworkers at Mysefski Architects in Chicago will have plenty to hear about on Monday.

"It was really fun to see the whole community come out," Fedoronko said. "All the neighborhoods had people cheering on their lawns. I love to see that in Midwest marathons."

Katy Neal of Gibson City and Andrea Worthington of Champaign were easy for those that lined the course to spot on Saturday morning.

The duo were dressed as SpongeBob Squarepants and Patrick Star as they appeared in "The SpongeBob SquarePants Movie," with each completing the race in 1:26:03 to secure the 1,998th and 1,999th spots in that race.

"It's a little difficult, but we do it every year," Worthington said. "It's worth it."

The two competed in Friday's 5K without a costume, but they've ran as Daphne and Velma from "Scooby-Doo" and Marty McFly and Dr. Emmett Brown from "Back to the Future" in years' past.

"We get a lot of people that want to take pictures with us and we have a lot of fun with it," Neal said.

"A lot of people on the sidelines are cheering for us and know who we are," Worthington said.

UI animal-science student Bella Polizzotto also donned a costume for Saturday's 10K.

She finished in 54:19 while dressed as a taco, a costume that her roommate provided her with.

"I didn't actually have an outfit planned," Polizzotto said. "I wanted something fun, and so my roommate had a taco costume ... It was so much fun to do."

Polizzotto had planned to run the full marathon before an injury forced a change of plans.

"I would say this is one of the best races because I don't have to think about hotels or anything," Polizzotto said. "I can walk or drive from where I live on campus, which is so nice, and I get to run with so many of my friends. And my friends who don't run, it's easy for them to spectate."

She does, however, plan to compete in the New York City Marathon with Team Paws Chicago to raise awareness for animal wellness.

"I'm really hoping to tell people about all the things that Paws Chicago does, giving resources to underserved communities to keep pets in their home so they stay out of shelters, which is really awesome," Polizzotto said.

Genoa native Aidan Farrell completed the men's half-marathon in 1:39:10, placing 228th among 3,018 runners and 65th place among those aged 20-24.

He did so while sporting the same jersey he does for the UI club cross-country team.

"It's nice because it's right here and finishing at the stadium is pretty cool," Farrell said. "I just kind of run my own (training) routes and they're kind of similar, the same roads in the area."

Farrell is set to graduate in May; the accounting major already has an auditing job lined up and ready to go.

"It was great today and a lot of people out and supporting and everything," Farrell said. "It was a good day for us."

Renovations to the south end of Gies Memorial Stadium meant race officials had to make some minor changes to the layout inside it.

While the finish line remained at Zupke Field's 50-yard line, the medical tent moved from the horseshoe to an area near the tunnel used by the Illinois football team in the venue's northeast corner.

"The nature of EMS is that the work we do is unpredictable, variable and you never know where you're going to be sent next," said Michael Smith, one of the event's medical directors.

"We're excited to see the changes coming to Gies Memorial Stadium, and truthfully for medical (personnel), it's been a non-event other than setting up on the opposite end of the stadium from where we usually are."

Cool weather was good news for Smith and the rest of the medical team, which featured volunteers from Parkland, Illinois State and Millikin among other organizations.

Champaign's Louis Green runs on East Amber Lane in the 17th Christie Clinic Illinois Race Weekend marathon on Saturday in Urbana. Green finished at 4:14:09.

"We are really thankful to the meteorologist for ordering us this favorable weather," Smith said.

Smith credited a strong cast of volunteers with helping make the medical component of the race's operation a success.

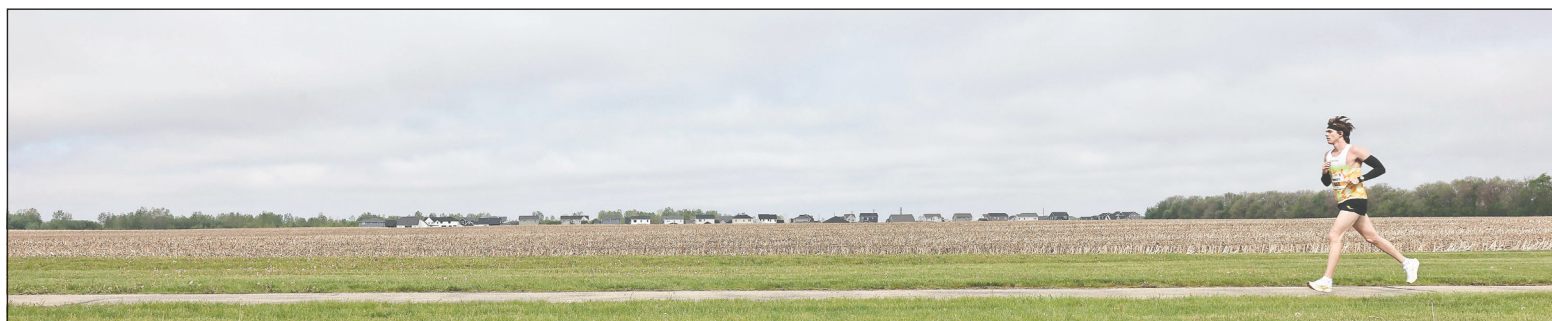

Chenxi Zhang has volunteered during Christie Clinic Illinois Race Weekend several times during his time as a UI student.

And Saturday marked the final time that Zhang will have a chance to do that before he graduates with a degree in finance in May.

"We love to be here and share for the people," Zhang said. "Congratulations to them for their accomplishments."

Zhang once again helped deliver post-race nutrition to runners in the west concourse of Gies Memorial Stadium after they crossed the finish line, just as he did in 2025.

"We have protein bars, granola bars, peanuts, almonds," Zhang said. "This is one of my last chances to stay connected to the community, and I just love the opportunity to be here and just connect with the people."

THIS YEAR'S CHAMPS

WOMEN'S MARATHON

First time's the charm for runner from Nashville

By ZACH PIATT

CHAMPAIGN — Mackenzie Barnett has been training for her very first marathon since January, but it was never supposed to be in Champaign.

She competed in cross-country and track at Lipscomb University, where she graduated from last year, and got a second-grade teaching position at a public school in Nashville. Originally from Indiana, however, she planned to run in the Carmel Marathon last weekend, but that got postponed to late May due to weather concerns.

"I was like 'Oh man,'" Barnett said. "There's actually a race in Nashville this weekend, but I heard it's more of a destination marathon and not as much of a train-to-get-a-PR type of marathon. I looked this one up and saw that it had fast times and good reviews."

Barnett was able to get a late registration for the Illinois Marathon, and she made the most of her experience on Saturday. Not only did her time of 2 hours, 51 minutes, 48 seconds accomplish her goal of running a sub-three-hour race, but it was also the fastest women's time of the day.

"I'm grateful for it," Barnett said. "It was my first marathon, so I didn't really know what to expect, but it was fun. There's a lot of people here, so it made it fun."

Rounding out the women's podium were Katie Fedoronko from Chicago in second (2:57.57) and Ashley Bieniek from Greencastle, Ind., in third (2:59.29).

Even though she never planned on running during the 17th Christie Clinic Illinois Race Weekend, she soaked up every bit of the experience.

"It was so fun," Barnett said shortly after crossing the finish line. "The last three hours, I've just been having fun. The people on the course were so encouraging. I really never had a time when people weren't cheering for me, which was so fun. I loved it."

And winning it was the cherry on top. After graduating from Lipscomb a year ago, she started to miss the competition aspect of running, so she started building up some mileage throughout this past fall in preparation for her first marathon. She was ready to compete again, but the win was a pleasant surprise.

"I was not expecting that. That was more of a long-term goal type of thing," Barnett said. "I love racing and training. When I graduated college, I was sad to be done competing, so I was looking for the next thing, and this was definitely that next thing."

Barnett entered Gies Memorial Stadium and started sprinting toward the 50-yard line, met with cheers from the crowd. She was gassed by the time she crossed the finish line, but she had a big smile on her face, knowing she was taking her next step.

"By the time I got to the finish, I was ready to see the finish, for sure," Barnett said. "I was just praying 'Lord, whatever you'd like me to do, allow me to do it.' Either God is opening a door for me or wanting me to continue. I don't know exactly what He wants, but I'm looking forward to whatever's next."

Ul grad student finishes just shy of course record

By ZACH PIATT
zpiatt@news-gazette.com

CHAMPAIGN — Benjamin Rosa didn't just hope to win the Illinois Marathon. He wanted to be the fastest to ever run it.

"I was checking the time in the last 15 minutes, and I thought I'd be close to the course record," Rosa said. "It was around mile 17 or 18 that I realized things were trending in the right direction. I was hoping to get that, but the wind was really picking up the last three or four miles, and I kind of regressed at the end."

He was still about as close as he could get to getting it done. Rosa crossed the finish line first on Saturday at the 50-yard line of Gies Memorial Stadium in 2 hours, 18 minutes, 25 seconds, just 14 seconds behind Wilson Chemweno's record time of 2:18.11 in 2019. Eric Westog from Chelsea, Mich., finished second (2:20.27), and two-time defending champion and local fan favorite Jaime Marcos took third (2:21.12).

Rosa is a graduate student at the University of Illinois working toward a master's degree in accounting. He's familiar with the local layout, but this was his first experience running during Christie Clinic Illinois Race Weekend, and he enjoyed every part of it.

"It was a great crowd of people cheering on. It was wonderful the whole way throughout the course. The community element to this is fun. And because I've been running and training here, I know all the different parts of town."

Rosa is from Lake Bluff, not quite a three-hour drive north of Champaign, and he ran four years of cross-country and track at Harvard University. While competing for the Crimson, he got his bachelor's degree in economics last year. He knew Illinois had a good accounting program, and being from the Chicago suburbs, he said it was an "easy choice" to come to Champaign after a competitive four years at Harvard.

"It's one of the tougher schools to be a student-athlete," Rosa said of Harvard. "There's a lot higher ambient pressure, and the spotlight is always on you. One thing that's very different from campus here versus Harvard is there are news crews everywhere at Harvard. You'll just be walking through campus, and the spotlight is always there and very tightly focused. It is a very fine balancing act, but the most important piece of that was the community."

"I had a great team, great teammates, a great coach and a great support staff. Even though there's a bit of a fish bowl effect, it was always a lot of fun to be with those guys."

And Rosa is nowhere near done. He said he's running in another marathon next month in Ottawa.

During training, he runs about 130 miles every week. He's run numerous unofficial marathons around his familiar one-mile road loops in preparation for the real thing.

"You do that twice a week for four months, and you get pretty fit," Rosa said with a laugh. "I was stepping into this and seeing how I felt. I'm running another marathon in like a month, so I'm still in the middle of some heavy training. You can't really tell how you feel when you're training so much, so I just kind of went out there to see how I would run and hopefully move things in the right direction."

As much as he enjoyed his first Illinois Marathon, Rosa said it's too soon to commit to coming back to defend his title next year. After all, he has a few more races before then.

"We'll see," Rosa said with a smile. "One marathon at a time."

Tadele Kumssa of Urbana shows his family some affection before lining up for the start of the Christie Clinic Illinois Half Marathon on Saturday on First Street in Champaign. Kumssa finished the half marathon in 1 hour, 34 minutes and 14 seconds.

A NOTE ABOUT THESE RESULTS

Results for the 17th Christie Clinic Illinois Race Weekend were provided by The Last Mile Racing. Because of the number of entries, it is possible that some names may have been missed or misspelled, and finishing times may be incorrect. Because results are based on chip timing, runners who did not use their chips will not be listed.
