CHAMPAIGN ❖ Curtis Eckstein and Phil Parrot-Migas fought tooth-and-nail for the top spot in the Christie Clinic Illinois Half-Marathon on Saturday morning.

But it was Eckstein who gained the edge in the late stages en route to a winning time of 1:05:25.

"It was painful, but it feels good at the same time," Eckstein said. "By the time I look up, I'm at like 11.5, 12 miles, I'm like, 'All right, only 1 mile to go. Let's keep working hard the whole way through.'"

Eckstein — an engineer at Rolls-Royce in Indianapolis — posted a strong 22:56 showing in an 8K race about a month ago before falling ill during his half-marathon training.

It didn't stop him from narrowly defeating Parrot-Migas of London, Ontario, and third-place finisher Charles Parrish of Belleville, with Chicago's Jack Roberts and Urbana's Bram Osterhout rounding out the top five.

"That hurt my training for two weeks," Eckstein said. "When I got here today, (I decided to) see how I feel and we'll see at like Mile 10, if I'm feeling good, I'll surge and I'll take it. That's basically what happened."

Mornings and afternoons are when Eckstein — a member of Indianapolis-based Working Man's Track Club — gets the bulk of his workouts in.

Saturday morning yielded significantly more energy than his usual runs.

"When I got here, I'd never ran this race before, so I didn't know how it was going to go," Eckstein said. "I didn't know the competition level and I'd never been here before so I didn't know the course. Definitely the finish was the best part, coming onto the football field."

Lanni Marchant is used to running high-profile races.

The London, Ontario, native competed in two events for Team Canada in the 2016 Summer Olympics in Rio de Janeiro and held the country's marathon record from 2013-19.

The latest addition to her myriad accomplishments: a Christie Clinic Illinois Half-Marathon women's title, which she earned by racing through the streets of Champaign-Urbana in 1:12:45 on Saturday morning.

"We had a lot of really hard years in the last couple of years," Marchant said. "That's probably my fastest time in like nine years, so I'll take it, and I'm trending in the right direction."

Marchant crossed the finish line with a new course record in front of Chicago's Sara Dietz, St. Joseph's Chelsea Thomsen, Champaign's Jordyn Cummings and Peoria's Maryjeanne Gilbert.

Dietz crossed the line in 1:23:59, just north of 11 minutes after Marchant.

"I knew what the course record was," Marchant said. "I had hoped to have some guys to run with, and I kind of ended up in no man's land on a windy day, but it was still a lot of fun."

It wouldn't come as a surprise to Marchant to see elite runners mark Memorial Stadium's 50-yard line on their maps. And their calendars.

"I'm really appreciative of the race," Marchant said. "This is something that I think you'll probably see grow, just because as faster people come down, (the community) should probably be prepared. This might end up on a lot of top athletes' race calendars."

Mahomet's Brian Bundren entered Saturday with the aim of repeating as champion of the 10K race.

He did just that, with his time of 35 minutes and 16 seconds outlasting Alex Gomez by 45 seconds in addition to besting his 2024 time by seven seconds.

"I really look forward to this race every year," Bundren said. "This is just a good measuring stick for tracking my progress. Super excited to do this race."

Bundren, like most runners who competed on Saturday, benefited from cool, cloudy and breezy conditions throughout the race. "It was a little breezy the first two miles, but overall, it's good temperatures for running, so we'll take it," Bundren said.

Monticello's Chris Owen placed third, while Lane Webber of Verona, Wis., was fourth and DJ BJ Clark of Urbana took fifth.

"This is such a great race for the community," Bundren said. "It's really unbelievable how the community comes out to support this race, and it's just a really special event."

Trish Black of Savoy completed a local sweep — and a back-to-back victory of her own — claiming a women's 10K victory in 25 minutes and 41 seconds.

How did she plan to celebrate with her family?

"I think we're going to go to Merry-Ann Diner and grab some breakfast," Black said. "And then I want my daughter to do the kids' race at 3 o'clock, but we'll see if she's up for it."

Winning the 10K wasn't Black's initial plan. She didn't enter until the last second.

"I was actually originally signed up for the 5K (on Friday) and saw that it was going to be rainy, delayed and a little bit warm," Black said. "So I switched to this one last minute, and I'm so glad I did."

Black and the rest of the top women's finishers — Mt. Prospect's Zuzanna Krusze-wski, Champaign's Kathy Martensen, Alvin's Natalie Malinowski and Dewey's Jesse Mae Ottney — finished while the bulk of Saturday's competitors were still on the course.

That didn't stop an enthusiastic crowd from cheering them on.

"The fan base out there is absolutely incredible," Black said. "You just have people cheering the entire way and the course is flat, absolutely perfect. It's one of my favorites."

Hoda Elshorbagy didn't have any competition in the women's wheelchair half-marathon.

But despite the fact that she was racing the clock rather than other competitors, the Egyptian completed the race in 57 minutes and 45 seconds to become Saturday's first finisher.

"It went well," Elshorbagy said. "I had a good experience. I had to race against the clock to beat my personal record, so it was good."

Elshorbagy battled a stiff breeze en route to her expeditious finish, which followed a runner-up finish to Susannah Scaroni in 2024.

"It was a little bit windy and it had some hills, but it was good overall," Elshorbagy said. "I love to compete in this race. Since I came from Egypt, every year, I do. I'm so grateful to be out here in this environment."

What's next for Elshorbagy?
"Chicago Marathon," she said. "That's my next race in October."

as runners packed C-U for a full slate of events

Jack Dalbey photos/The News-Gazette

A sizable crowd filtered into Memorial Stadium as friends and family members concluded their races on Saturday morning.

They also saw a range of runners dressed in colorful costumes. A few wore hot dog costumes. Others wore tiaras or ballet skirts. The man's attire would've fit well at Oktoberfest.

Chloe Chang and Cassidy Erb were dressed as farm animals. Erb as a pig and Chang as a chicken.

We just thought it would be (more fun) to wear the costumes when we ran in the 10K, Chang said.

The pair — both University of Illinois freshmen — were all smiles after finishing the 10K. Erb finished in 1:00:56, while Chang finished in 1:05:11.

If anything, I thought it was more fun, Erb said. I liked seeing people's reactions when I turned the corner.

Chang agreed. I had one guy go like, 'Run, rooster, I'm coming for you,' she said.

UI Professor Karle Flanagan completed the 10K in 1:39:22, a bit faster than the animal she chose to represent.

It's a sloth costume, Flanagan said. I'm kind of slow, so I wanted to wear it. I was also kind of cold this morning.

Flanagan saw plenty of familiar faces along the 6.2-mile course, plenty of which runs through campus.

We've been doing the 10K for the past 10 years, Flanagan said. This is one of my favorite events in town. I teach a lot of students, so I saw a lot of them cheering for people on the way. I think it's one of the best events they have in Champaign.

Outgoing Urbana Mayor Diane Marlin knows what marathon weekend means to the community.

She's helped host the races in her official capacity since 2017. Saturday marked her last race weekend before retirement; De-Shawn Williams will be sworn in as mayor next month.

It's wonderful, Marlin said. We need joy, and this is a joyful weekend.

Marlin was also a competitor, completing Saturday's 10K in

Robin Scholz/The News-Gazette

Retiring Urbana mayor Diane Marlin and 20 members of her family ran Friday's Christie Clinic Illinois 5K Run/Walk in Mayor-A-Thon T-shirts.

2:09:06, with plenty of friends and family on hand to run alongside her while sporting Mayor-A-Thon T-shirts. She also competed in the 5K the night before.

About 35 family members are here celebrating the marathon and my retirement, Marlin said. We're going to party all weekend, and then I go to Washington (D.C.) tomorrow to lobby for Champaign County First.

Like nearly 11,000 others who finished races on Saturday, Marlin's first move after the race was toward the medals.

Some had depictions of Grange Grove's gates, which opened up to reveal this year's theme of Tradition & Triumph.

Others had a component in the middle that swiveled around. And longtime volunteer Joe Turngren had a big role in ensuring they all found proper homes.

We have a big group of volunteers, Turngren said. We had another group here last night setting up all the medals, getting them unpacked and then passing out the medals after the race.

Same thing today, we've got a big crew here until 10:30 or 11 a.m., and then there will be another crew that does the second half of the day passing out these beautiful medals. Turngren has been involved with the marathon since 2010, when the race was just 2 years old.

Fifteen years later, he's happy to remain a part of it. That's kind of the best part of this volunteering job, being down on the field and seeing these people finish, Turngren said. There's a lot of them, it'll be maybe the only marathon they ever run, and it's really rewarding to see them excited to get their medal and cross the finish line.

Heather Harbour moved to Champaign in 2010.

She's been associated with the marathon in some capacity since; she helped runners stretch out after Saturday's races at the Athletico tent that was positioned a short distance from the finish line.

Every year, we're really excited to be a part of the Illinois Marathon, Harbour said. We provide post race stretching for anyone that wants it ... our goal is to make sure that runners that have trained really hard leave feeling good.

Harbour — a regional physical therapy director with Athletico — was happy to help runners alleviate any post-race wear-and-tear.

A lot of us are runners, Harbour said. I ran last night and I'm doing the morning, so some of our team can run the races today. We're seeing people right after they finish their goals, so we're able to celebrate with them.

Fortunately for the runners and the Athletico team — cool temperatures were ideal for race weekend's crescendo.

The nice thing with the weather is it's more similar to what everyone has trained in, Harbour said. For us, it being not as warm, we won't have to do as much screening on who's here and who's going to a medical tent because of cramping or muscle tightness.

Saturday's weather conditions brought a smile to plenty of faces.

Michael Smith — one of the race's medical directors — remembered the issues that a warm, sunny day created during last year's marathon.

We are thrilled to say that the weather has been our friend this year, Smith said. Last year, we had a number of people who got fairly medically sick in the race due to the temperature and humidity. This year, we couldn't be happier. Almost every runner (is) crossing the finish line with a big smile on their face.

Medical personnel were spread at planned intervals around the course, with a large presence inside Memorial Stadium to help exhausted runners as they crossed the finish line.

We really have a community of medical support to the race between Carle, OSF, Christie Clinic, Smith said. And then our partners at the University of Illinois College of Medicine as well as Parkland's nursing program, we bring in dozens of volunteers from all over to support the race from start to finish.

A number of runners sported bibs indicating they were trained in hands-only CPR, which race officials emphasized in the buildup to race weekend.

During last year's event, competitor Rafael Ruggieri went into cardiac arrest while running through Meadowbrook Park in Urbana before a team of runners — including his son, Isaac — intervened with life-saving measures.

Ruggieri completed Saturday's half-marathon in 3:44:52.

We are thrilled to see a record turnout this year for the marathon, Smith said. And so happy to see so many people finishing the race having had a great weekend here in CU.

The cost of registration for Saturday's races included a perk to be redeemed at the 27th Mile Celebrate Victory Bash on Kirby Avenue: A beverage from Riggs Beer Company.

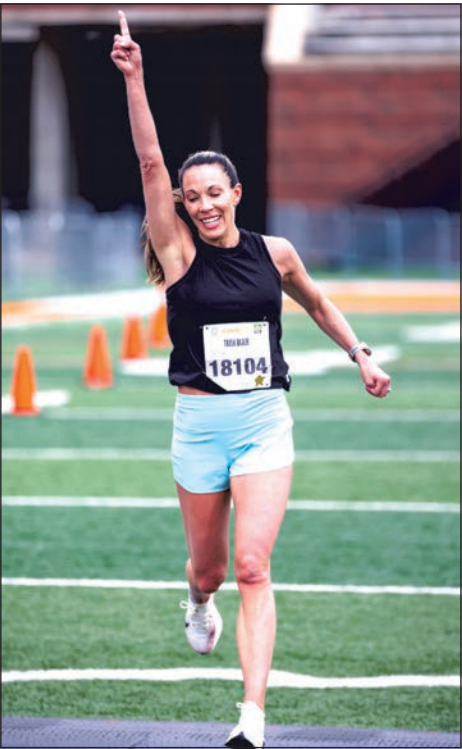

Response has been positive, but it really is every year, Matt Riggs said. That's why we are so happy and excited to partner with the marathon.

It's one of the most unique situations that I can think of where you can serve somebody a product, because they have just completed a big life goal, so they're very happy about what they just did.

Those 21 and older were offered an array of alcoholic beverages, with non-alcoholic options available for younger runners.

It is a cool thing, Riggs said. From our standpoint, kind of knowing what we're getting into with a hometown race like this makes it a little bit easier for us to do each year, but it's just as rewarding every year.

For us, it's like the biggest no-brainer event that we could ever be a part of.

Jack Dalbey/The News-Gazette

Saturday's 10K winners both defended their titles, with Trish Black of Savoy, left, finishing in 25:41 and Brian Bundren of Mahomet, right, crossing the finish line in 35:16. Egyptian native Hoda Elshorbagy, center, was the lone wheelchair racer in the half-marathon but still the first competitor to finish, with a time of 57:45.

WOMEN'S MARATHON

Victory caps off 'whirlwind' week for Indiana woman: 'I'm so grateful'

By ZACH PIATT
zpiatt@news-gazette.com

CHAMPAIGN — This time last week, Tera Moody had no intention of running the Christie Clinic Illinois Marathon — let alone winning it. In fact, everything about her weekend in Champaign was unexpected. “It’s been quite the week,” Moody said with a laugh. “Kind of a whirlwind.”

Moody, a native of Bargersville, Ind., about 20 miles south of Indianapolis, was heading just north of the city on April 18 to run the Carmel Marathon. She spent months training for it while balancing her work in real estate. She did everything she needed to do leading up to it and was fully prepared to have a good race.

That’s how her spring marathon experience was supposed to go. Instead, thunderstorms forced Carmel to cancel its event, and Moody was left scrambling to find another race so she could put all her preparation to good use.

Luckily, the Illinois Marathon was just a week and a two-hour drive away. She said event personnel were “so accommodating and kind” in helping Moody register at the last minute. She made the trip to Champaign with her family before sunrise on Saturday morning, and a few hours later, she was the first female to cross the finish line for her first-ever marathon win.

“Just getting here was big,” Moody said. “It was just such a great feeling, like ‘I am finishing this race, even if the last four miles have felt like 40.’ I’ve run maybe 14 marathons in my life, and I had never won one. I’m 44, and I never knew if I would get the opportunity to win. That was a really, really cool, once-in-a-lifetime thing. I’m so grateful.”

Both of Moody’s parents and her brother went to the University of Illinois, so there was a part of her that felt right at home, but the last few miles of the race “really beat me up.”

As Moody started the final stretch down First Street toward Memorial Stadium, she was running directly into a headwind. By the time she broke the finishing tape at the 50-yard line, her legs were “pretty toast,” so much so that a pair of medical staff members had to assist her back to the entrance gate. Add in all the mental energy she spent just to run that race, and she was completely “drained.”

And she didn’t even know she was leading the whole time.

“I thought I was in second because people kept saying ‘second female,’” Moody said. “I was kind of getting discouraged because I ran my second half slower than my first by quite a bit, and I don’t really like to do that. When I turned in and they said, ‘And now, the moment you’ve been waiting for,’ I was like ‘Wait, what?’ I got so excited. I was just so grateful to be at the end.”

Moody’s winning time was 2 hours, 47 minutes, 21 seconds, almost a full three minutes ahead of second place. It was a couple minutes slower than what she was shooting for, but she was still “really pleased” with the result given everything she’s gone through in the last week.

On top of that, she’s a 44-year-old mother of a 3-year-old and 1-year-old. Her all-time personal best is 2:30 in 2010, but she reset her personal records after turning 40 and adding a couple kids to the family, and Saturday’s time marked a new one for post-40 Moody.

“During the race, I kept thinking ‘The sooner I finish, the sooner I get to see my kids,’” Moody said. “We’ve all made sacrifices to come here. Family means so much to me, and having them here is the most amazing thing. I’m so glad it worked out. We talked about maybe me coming up on my own, but it’s amazing having my husband and kids here.”

“I didn’t expect to see them so much, but he even drove around the course, and I was able to give my son knuckles out there. They’re a big part of why I run. It makes me a better person and a better parent.”

Dr. Howard teacher defends title: 'I felt like I had to win'

By ZACH PIATT
zpiatt@news-gazette.com

CHAMPAIGN — Fans inside Memorial Stadium knew who was coming to the finish line, and they let him know it. Champaign native Jaime Marcos won his second consecutive Christie Clinic Illinois Marathon on Saturday morning, and as he crossed the 50-yard line, he was met with chants of “M-A-R C-O-S.”

But he couldn’t hear them. “That last mile was just sheer will,” the Dr. Howard Elementary teacher said. “My legs didn’t want to move, and I could barely see. I just had to get to a few more turns, but I couldn’t see or hear a whole lot.”

“Coming into the stadium, all the wind was into my face. Every mile, I lost more and more feeling in my legs and arms. It was just pure grit. I couldn’t accelerate or manage my body other than just staying moving.”

The exhaustion was evident on his face when he was finally able to stop, and he made a beeline to the medical tent behind the south end zone, staying there for the next hour.

Marcos made it clear he’s healthy now, but he wasn’t so sure in the moment.

“I’m better now. I was not OK when I finished,” Marcos said. “The last four miles into the wind took it out of me. I’ve had an experience like this before where my vision and legs started to give out, and I know how dangerous that is, so I went straight to the tent. I had an I.V. in me, and a bunch of nurses helped me out. If it wasn’t for them, I don’t know if I’d be walking around right now.”

Jaime Marcos of Champaign repeats as men’s champion at Saturday’s Christie Clinic Illinois Marathon at Memorial Stadium in Champaign. The physical-education teacher at Champaign’s Dr. Howard Elementary School finished with a time of 2:22:23, more than seven minutes faster than 2024.

Once he was cleared to leave, Marcos took the opportunity to reflect on the magnitude of what he had just accomplished. The 26-year-old is now the winner of the last two Illinois Marathons, with this year’s time of 2 hours, 22 minutes, 23 seconds — nearly four minutes ahead of second place — more than seven minutes faster than his winning time last year.

“This has been my goal for the last year,” Marcos said. “Throughout this whole training block over the fall, winter and spring, this was the big race for me. I felt like I had to win. If I lost, that would have been disappointing. It meant a lot to me. Now that it’s over, I’m just so relieved, excited and happy. It’s a different feeling compared to last year. It feels a lot more important, so I’m thankful.”

Marcos, who teaches physical education at the Champaign elementary school, said last year, his students didn’t believe him when he told them he was going to win. Since then, they’ve referred to him as “the PE teacher who won the marathon” and had all the confidence in the world that he could do it again.

“Kids at that age don’t know how far a mile is, let alone 26 miles,” Marcos said with a laugh. “All they know is that I’ve won a race, so now they think I’m supposed to win every race. They definitely believed in me, and they wrote me little letters and drew me pictures.”

Now, they can call him the PE teacher who’s won two marathons.
