90 YEARS OF LAUGHTER + LOVE

CAROL BURNETT

90 YEARS OF LAUGHTER + LOVE

The new special "Carol Burnett: 90 Years of Laughter + Love" airs Wednesday on NBC.

90 YEARS OF LAUGHTER + LOVE

Carol Burnett marks a big birthday with NBC special

For anyone who's ever thought Carol Burnett's birthday should be a national event, now it is.

One way in which the much-loved comedy icon will spend her special day Wednesday, April 26, is "Carol Burnett: 90 Years of Laughter + Love," NBC's new all-star celebration of her. The show will be filled with tributes from many of her friends and peers, including Dame Julie Andrews and former "Carol Burnett Show" cohorts Vicki Lawrence and costumer Bob Mackie ... as well as Cher, Lily Tomlin, Ellen DeGeneres, Steve Carell, Amy Poehler, Aileen Quinn ("Annie") and Bill Hader (to whom Burnett learned she is related on PBS' "Finding Your Roots With Henry Louis Gates, Jr." recently).

Additional guests including Katy Perry, Bernadette Peters, Kristin Chenoweth, Billy Porter and Jane Lynch perform musical segments during the show, each commemorating a significant part of Burnett's career. Among those are Burnett's portrayal of Miss Hannigan in the 1982 film of "Annie," and her trademark singing of "I'm So Glad We Had This Time Together" (complete with ear-tug message to her grandmother) at the end of each episode of "The Carol Burnett Show."

"It was quite a night," six-time Primetime Emmy Award winner Burnett says of the March taping of the program. "I'm still kind of reeling from it. It's not a roast or a birthday party, it's really a variety show. A lot of my dear friends were there, and my 'chum' Julie Andrews was by my side the whole evening; she lives back East, and she flew out just for this. I was totally gobsmacked, I have to say!"

Burnett also has a Tony, a Grammy, a Mark Twain Prize for American Humor, a Presidential Medal of Freedom and a Screen Actors Guild Life Achievement Award among her many other accolades. Additionally, she has seven Golden Globe Awards, and that ceremony named an honor after her for contributions to television; appropriately, she was its first recipient.

The Burnett birthday event is, she reflects, "really a retrospective of everything I've ever done, practically, starting way back with my almost-first television appearance ... on 'Omnibus.' Then, (the special) covers 'The Garry Moore Show' when I was a regular on that, and movies that I've done, and TV appearances other than my own show. But, of course, 'The Carol Burnett Show' is in there, too."

Expect the late Harvey Korman, Tim Conway and Lyle Waggoner to be seen bountifully in "Carol Burnett Show" clips during the NBC special, but there will be no doubt who the evening's central talent is. And just as it's been for so many years, those physically near her – as well as those watching at home – will be so glad still to be in her orbit.

Christopher Reeve

'Superman' heads up, up and away on TCM

"You'll believe a man can fly." So said the ads for the 1978 screen version of "Superman," and the phrase proved reasonably true. Turner Classic Movies presents the hugely entertaining film Sunday, April 23 – as part of the channel's tribute to Warner Bros. on the studio's 100th anniversary – and it made an immediate star of Christopher Reeve, who landed the central part (and made three sequels) after such names as Clint Eastwood and Steve McQueen had been bandied about for it.

This really is three stories in one: the infant Kal-El's early life in another world with father Jor-El (Marlon Brando); the youngster's upbringing in Smallville; and the grown Superman's battle with villainous Lex Luther (an amusing Gene Hackman). Margot Kidder is reporter Lois Lane in director Richard Donner's terrific cast ... and if you're looking for more superheroism afterward, 1989's "Batman" follows this.

"Movie: Banana Split"

Benjamin Kasulke made his feature film directorial debut with this 2018 comedy about the close friendship that develops between teen girls over the course of a summer. But there's a problem — one is dating the other's ex. Hannah Marks, Liana Liberato and Dylan Sprouse and Jacob Batalon head the cast.

BEST SIDNEY LUMET MOVIES

"12 Angry Men" (1957) Lumet moved from directing television dramas to guiding theatrical films with this searing jury-deliberation drama (adapted, ironically, from a TV play) produced by principal star Henry Fonda.

"Long Day's Journey Into Night" (1962) Tackling a (or, to some people, "the") defining Eugene O'Neill work was a brave move for someone still young in his moviemaking, but Lumet drew indelible performances from Katharine Hepburn and Jason Robards.

"Fail-Safe" (1964) Fonda worked with Lumet again by playing the U.S. president in this tense drama sparked by a pending, erroneously ordered nuclear attack on Moscow.

"The Pawnbroker" (1964) Rod Steiger is brilliant under Lumet's direction as a concentration-camp survivor who continues to be haunted by his wartime experiences.

"The Hill" (1965) In the first of the multiple movies he made with Lumet, Sean Connery took a very effective break from the world of Agent 007 as an incarcerated British soldier subjected to grueling punishment.

"The Group" (1966) Lumet's take on Mary McCarthy's novel is soap opera of a very high grade, with Candice Bergen, Joan Hackett and Jessica Walter among those depicting the lives and loves of students at a private school pre-World War II.

"The Offence" (1973) A gritty melodrama he got financed in exchange for returning as James Bond in "Diamonds Are Forever," Connery excels for Lumet as a dispirited British police detective who reaches the end of his rope.

"Serpico" (1973) A run of holiday-season hits for Lumet over several consecutive years began with the true story of an honest New York police detective (superbly played by Al Pacino) who risked his life by turning informant on corrupt peers.

"Murder on the Orient Express" (1974) Lumet's wonderfully stylish version of the Agatha Christie mystery is — just as the ads promised — "the who's who in the whodunit," encompassing everyone from Albert Finney (as master sleuth Hercule Poirot) and Connery to Lauren Bacall and Oscar winner Ingrid Bergman.

"Dog Day Afternoon" (1975) Pacino and Lumet collaborated on another fact-based tale, the saga of a bank robbery gone extremely awry ... with surprises about the reason behind the attempted heist eventually emerging.

"Movie: Air"

Ben Affleck directed and stars in this drama movie about shoe salesman Sonny Vaccaro (Matt Damon) and how he led Nike in its pursuit of the greatest athlete in the history of basketball, Michael Jordan, to partner in the Air Jordan athletic shoe brand. Jason Bateman, Chris Messina and Viola Davis also star. (ORIGINAL)

"El Internado: Las cumbres"

From Spain comes this teen drama-thriller series about two students who run away from a boarding school for troubled teens in an ancient monastery that's located in an isolated mountain region where ancient legends abound and threats loom. Alberto Amarilla, Francisca Aronsson, Aitor Beltran and Ramiro Blas star. (ORIGINAL) Season Premiere

"Movie: White House Down"

After "Olympus Has Fallen," 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. came under attack from enemies again — on screen, that is — in this 2013 adventure from director Roland Emmerich ("Independence Day"). Apart from the plentiful pyrotechnics, he also gets lots of mileage from the enjoyable teamwork of Jamie Foxx and Channing Tatum as (respectively) the president and the policeman trying to save him. Maggie Gyllenhaal and James Woods also star.

April 28

"Citadel"

After the global spy agency Citadel has fallen and its agents' memories were wiped clean, a powerful new syndicate Manticore rises to fill the void. Now, two Citadel agents (Richard Madden, Priyanka Chopra Jonas) must regain their pasts and their strength to fight back in this espionage drama from executive producers Joe and Anthony Russo ("From"). (ORIGINAL) Series Premiere

Paula Newsome

Q: How do you like depicting the work of forensic investigators on "CSI: Vegas"?

A: It's amazing, like when we were doing the research for this, finding out how people can spend like three days in the bottom of a lab, just down in some DNA ... trying to figure out the stories of what happened to people's loved ones. We're on the amazing side of it, where we get to just sit and have like all the best of the best just at our beck and call (them) to be able to write a story about that. For me, it's hard to imagine (that at this) very second, there are people in the basements and the bowels of buildings doing this very thing that this show is talking about. (They) were in there last night, maybe got to work at 5:00 and maybe are on their second body or on their second tray of DNA. It really takes a lot just to put yourself in somebody else's shoes like that.

OF CSI VEGAS ON CBS

CSI bureau?

A: I'm the youngest of three daughters, so it feels like vengeance on my sisters that I get to tell people what to do. My sisters always were the boss of me, so that's nice. It's a fit. Women are very capable beings, you know. It's just nice to be in the shoes of being able to step into that capability and, in so doing, set the example for other women and other people who want to step into that capability.

Q: How is it to have original "CSI: crime Scene Investigation" cast member Marg Helgenberger on your show now!

A: Can I say, as a member of this iteration, what a joy it is to have Marg here ... an absolute joy. The knowledge that she brings along with her, the kindness, the humility, the grace, the intel — just the experience.

celebrity quotes

"There are incredible dramas out there, but the uniqueness and originality and irreverence of this (show) breathed life back into the idea of doing something with a bunch of people for me." – Jake McDorman of "Mrs. Davis" on Peacock

"I always say that in order to understand Italians, you have to understand Italian food because we're so connected. And the opposite is also true." – Gabriele Bertaccini of the Italy-set "Ciao House" on Food Network and discovery+

"None of us collected very much. The only thing is that Nancy McKeon had the foresight to take the open and closed sign off of Edna's Edibles when the shop burned down and so she has that hanging in her kitchen. And I didn't get anything from the show." – Lisa Whelchel of "Collector's Call" on MeTV, on whether she took any souvenirs from "The Facts of Life" set when it finished filming in 1988

Melanie Lynskey of “Yellowjackets” on Showtime, on what she deems the best moments of the acting process
“Sometimes, something transcendent happens where you leave your body a little bit and you don’t know what’s going on, and something magical happens between you and another actor.”

David Boreanaz of “SEAL Team” on Paramount+, on his father, a now-retired broadcaster of the Philadelphia and Buffalo markets
“We still share that sense of, ‘It’s work, and you do the best that you can do,’ but watching him as my dad when I was growing up, all the stuff he did was pretty amazing. He’s a lot of fun to sit and have a glass of wine with, that’s for sure.”

Vanessa Lachey of “NCIS: Hawaii” on CBS
“I did my Tom Cruise run. And then I pulled my knee, my groin, both my calves, and somehow my arm. And it was three seconds in the pilot.”

PBS' 'Iconic America' reveals untold stories behind great American symbols

Fenway Park, the Statue of Liberty, the American cowboy – these are all symbols of Americana and the American way of life. And now a series upcoming on PBS explores their history, the good and the bad.

"Iconic America: Our Symbols and Stories With David Rubenstein," premiering Wednesday, April 26 (check local listings), delves into the pasts of these iconic symbols – which include not only the above but also the Hollywood sign, the Golden Gate Bridge, the Gadsden (aka "Don't Tread on Me") Flag, the American Bald Eagle and Georgia's Stone Mountain – to uncover little-known stories and examine how the meaning behind them has changed over time.

So in the eight episodes, viewers will learn that the Golden Gate Bridge was the target of more than 4,000 lawsuits before its construction, the initial idea behind the Statue of Liberty had nothing to do with immigration and the original American cowboy didn't carry guns or fight native inhabitants.

And in Wednesday's opener on Fenway Park, we learn that not only did the Boston Red Sox miss out on Babe Ruth, whose sale to the Yankees gave rise to the fabled "Curse of the Bambino" that was widely blamed for the franchise's 86-year championship drought, but also another all-time great.
