Congratulations

to the winners of the annual People's Choice contest

t's that time of year again, and once more, as we count the thousands of ballots, the cream rises to the top. I make a point to visit many of the People's Choice winners each year to learn their secrets, and invariably, their success comes down to two things: friendliness and commitment.

Friendliness to each and every person who walks in the door, and a commitment to the success of that relationship and transaction. The companies that place first, second and third in their respective categories have learned the art of customer satisfaction and practice it each and every day. That consistent commitment to excellence is what sets them apart.

Winners go above and beyond. This publication is loaded with winners. Shop their stores and businesses and you will see. And congratulate them on this year's results.
