

A photograph of the Taj Mahal in Agra, India, showing the central dome and four minarets under a clear sky.

Feb 3 – Mar 10
Tuesdays, 10 am

Tuesdays at Ten

Travel and Tourism in Victorian Times

What was it like to visit the Pyramids or the Taj Mahal at the beginning of the twentieth century? Fred Christensen will use his collection of vintage Baedeker guidebooks to give us a tour of the more exotic parts of the world. We'll visit the Austro-Hungarian Empire, Czarist Russia, Egypt, Ottoman Palestine, British India, and that most exotic of lands, the United States in 1909.

Fred Christensen

Questions? Ask us.
217.403.2000

Champaign Public
 LIBRARY