U.S. students stage massive walkout over gun violence

By Collin Binkley

Students at Roosevelt High School in Seattle take part in a protest against gun violence Wednesday. It was part of a nationwide school walkout that calls for stricter gun laws after the massacre of 17 people at a Florida high school.

Above: Students at Roosevelt High School in Seattle take part in a protest against gun violence Wednesday. It was part of a nationwide school walkout that calls for stricter gun laws after the massacre of 17 people at a Florida high school.

Spring break dampens Texas participation

By Suzanne Snavely

Top: The West Texas region of State Farm for its grant to improve athletic facilities for Kilgore High School.

By Suzanne Snavely

Spring break dampens Texas participation in spring tournaments, according to new data released by the NCAA."