OF LOCAL INTEREST

If you are predicating your decision to sell your home on the prevailing opinions of experts across the country, you should narrow your focus more closely to the market conditions in your immediate area. The market conditions in your neighborhood are so unique as to defy the "conventional wisdom" of media experts and the national market. So, if you are thinking about buying or selling a home, do not allow your (in) actions to be dictated by the prevailing mood. Instead, consult with an experienced local real estate agent, who can provide a real and comprehensive look at the local conditions. Why would you look at a national weather map to see if the sun is shining outside your door????

If you are curious as to whether or not it is a good time to sell, observe what is happening with real estate sales in your community. A timely market analysis based on properties similar to yours is your best indicator.
