

Racial disparities in COVID-19 deaths

Black residents are dying of the coronavirus at a far higher rate than other races, according to newly released data from the Louisiana Department of Health. Statewide, the death rate for black residents is 2.65 times the rate for others and in some parishes, it is dramatically higher.

