

Keystone XL blocked

A federal court has blocked construction of the controversial Keystone XL pipeline pending an environmental review. The pipeline would carry an estimated 830,000 barrels of oil a day from Canada's oil sands to terminals on the Gulf coast through environmentally sensitive areas including aquifers.

SOURCE: TransCanada