

From: Braille [REDACTED]
Date: April 21, 2021 at 7:39:20 PM CDT
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: [Nomc] Facebook Posts Regarding NBPCB

Hello,

Because of possible litigation, lawyers have asked that responses not be made to allegations being made on social media or newspapers. But enough, is enough.

Stacey Cervanka has posted several times during the past several months on Facebook regarding NBPCB. She seems to have apparently known of misconduct in the past but never bothered to report it. If she were certified by NBPCB, she could lose that certification for not filing a complaint and, by the way, so could you. I will be forwarding these and other comments to an attorney to determine if they are actionable as they are completely unfounded and I believe constitute libel.

If you, or anyone you know, is not satisfied with the result of any complaint you filed, I am sure that NBPCB will be glad to have an impartial third party review it. Also, if any of you are not proud of your certification, by all means, contact NBPCB and ask to have it relinquished.

Maria Morais

NOMC mailing list

[REDACTED]
<http://lists.nbpcb.org/listinfo.cgi/nomc-nbpcb.org>